Senate Due To Reject All Efforts Toward Tax Cuts

Excise Levy Passage Set During Day

Passenger Travel, Freight Tax Plans Also Lose Ground

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate appeared likely today to reject all tax cutting efforts and pass a bill to extend present corporation and major excise tax rates for another year.

That action would send the measure to President Eisenhower well in advance of the June 30 date the levies would drop automatically. The House already has passed the bill.

Before debate began Wednesday one amendment had appeared to have a chance of adoption—a proposal to eliminate the 3 per cent freight tax and the 10 per cent levy on passenger travel.

Loses Ground

But sponsors of this amendment conceded it had lost considerable ground because of combined pressure from the Eisenhower administration and Democratic and Republican Senate leaders against it.

Before reaching it, the Senate considers an amendment by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) to end the 10 per cent tax on automobile and have a similar levy on trucks. Supporters held little hope it would be adopted.

Amendment Beaten

The Senate defeated 65-23 Wednesday the first floor amendment—a proposal of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) for a six-billion-dollar tax cut to stimulate business in the recession.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), floor manager for the bill, said this could lead to an 18-billion-dollar federal deficit in the next year and require a boost in the debt limit to 300 billion dollars.

Bill To Boost Output Of Plutonium Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressional atomic energy subcommittee has approved expenditure of 145 million dollars to boost production of plutonium needed for small nuclear weapons such as defensive missile warheads.

Subcommittee Chairman Melvin Price (D-Ill.) said today the plutonium expansion item was added to the Atomic Energy Commission authorization bill because there is "critical need" for more of the explosive than is now being produced.

Price also said the subcommittee voted authorization for 36 million dollars worth of new facilities for basic physical research needed to keep this country in the vanguard of the atomic science.

Free Dental Work Cited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Neil McElroy, wife of the secretary of defense, recently received free dental treatment at Walter Reed Army Hospital, but McElroy says free treatment is normal procedure for wives of Cabinet officials.

An Army spokesman said he could not determine the cost of the minor dental surgery done for Mrs. McElroy.

McElroy said Mrs. McElroy normally is treated by a dentist in Cincinnati. But, he added, she doesn't get to Cincinnati often except on weekends when the dentist's office is closed and the dental surgery was something that had to be done.

Quiz Show Director Loses Job; Balked At Red Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—The director of the televised quiz show "Twenty-one" was out of a job today. He was fired after refusing to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he has a past Communist record.

The director, Charles S. Dubin, was questioned Wednesday as the committee opened public hearings into communism in show business. Nine persons in the industry were questioned.

Another questioned was Arthur Lief, American guest conductor of the Moiseyev Russian ballet, now touring this country and playing to packed houses. Lief refused to say if he is presently a Communist party member.

BRINKS ACCESSORY SHOT TO DEATH—Police carry John F. (Fals) Buccelli, 44, an accessory in the 1950 Brink's robbery, from his wrecked automobile in Boston today. At first it was thought he was injured in the crash involving his car and a parked truck but an examination showed he died of a bullet wound in the head. Police say he and a companion pleaded guilty to receiving $60,000 of the $1,219,000 Brinks haul. Eleven were involved in the actual theft. (AP Photos)

'Fats' Buccelli Shot To Death

BOSTON (UPI)—John F. (Fats) Buccelli, a figure in the million-dollar Brink's robbery, was found shot to death in his expensive automobile on a South End street today. A medical examiner said he was slain.

The body of the 44-year-old racketeer was found in the wreckage of the car which had crashed into the rear of a trailer truck. Police at first believed his death resulted from the crash.

Medical Examiner George W. Curtis said after an autopsy that Buccelli died of a bullet wound in the head.

Six Branded As Risks Win Appeals Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. Court of Appeals ruled 3 to 0 today that six civilian employees dismissed by the Army as security risks in 1954 from their jobs at Fort Monmouth, N. J., are entitled to reinstatement with back pay.

The opinion, written by Circuit Judge George T. Washington, said the Army had not carried out its own regulations in dismissing the six from Signal Corps jobs.

The group was among 25 civilians suspended as suspected security risks following controversial hearings directed by the late senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.). The rest have been cleared.

Washington's opinion said, "Army regulations require that an employee who gets an adverse ruling from the Army Security Review Board be notified of the board's findings."

The six Fort Monmouth employees were told merely that their continued employment would not be in the interests of national security reasons were not detailed.

They had sued for reinstatement and back pay totalling about $180,000.

British Bare Seven-Year Cyprus Plan

Proposal Described By Macmillan, Called Partnership Venture

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan announced today a seven-year plan for the future of Cyprus which provides for participation of Greek and Turkish governments in the administration of the island.

Macmillan described the proposal to the House of Commons as an adventure in partnership. He promised that cessation of violence in Cyprus—a British crown colony populated by 400,000 persons of Greek descent and 100,000 of Turkish descent—would bring a relaxation of emergency regulations, including return of Cypriots now excluded from the island.

Archbishop Would Return While he named no names, this reference was taken to mean that Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot community, would be allowed to return to Cyprus when order is restored. He is now an exile in Greece.

The Prime Minister said it is deeply to be regretted that all attempts for settlement of the Cyprus problem have thus far proved unsuccessful.

Greeks, Turks At Odds Greek Cypriots want the island to become Greek. Turks want the island partitioned. The dispute has been a bitter one and fighting last week between Greeks and Turks on Cyprus cost at least 17 lives.

Macmillan announced the British plan after a 48-hour pause to give the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Council time to talk over the problem with Britain, Greece and Turkey. All members of the alliance. Indications were Tuesday that Greece and Turkey both had rejected the plan, having been given a fill-in on it in advance.

Village Receives Gifts For Saving American Flier

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson gave presents today to mountain villagers who recently rescued an American after a plane crash.

Carroll J. Howard, a U. S. adviser to Thai border patrol police, is recovering from injuries received in the crash.

Johnson flew by helicopter to the northeastern village of Kaengmaung to present 200 blankets, rice, fish, chili and salt. The villagers gave him in return a live porcupine and a pigmy parrot.

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Edward F. Blomeyer, 95, a railroad industry pioneer who was a prime mover in the drive to open up the swamps of southeast Missouri and who served as president of the Pere Marquette Steamship Co., and the Manistique, Marquette and Northern Railway, died Wednesday.

Adams Case Irks Some; GOP Bows

Many 'Not Happy' About 'Gift' Issue; Split Over Removal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Republicans bowed today to President Eisenhower's decision to keep Sherman Adams on the job. But many GOP members made it plain they aren't happy about it.

Republican state chairmen split over the question of Eisenhower's top aide. Some still insisted he should get out. Others supported Eisenhower's backing him. Many declined comment, but could agree with one of their number, Ray Bliss of Ohio, who said "I'm certain I'd rather it hadn't happened."

To Be Demo Issue

In New York, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler left no doubt the Democrats will make a major political issue out of Adams' dealings with industrialist Bernard Goldfine of Boston. As to Eisenhower's insistence on keeping Adams as his chief assistant, Butler added:

"The President's own conduct makes him as morally responsible for this improper conduct as Mr. Adams is himself."

Adams has testified he accepted gifts and favors from Goldfine, a family friend, and also contacted two federal agencies studying complaints against Goldfine's companies. But he said there was no connection and he had no intent to win favored treatment for Goldfine.

Needs Him, Ike Says Eisenhower agreed with Adams' concession that he could have "acted a little more prudently," but said he admired and respected his chief aide for ability and integrity.

The consensus among the politicians here appeared to be that Eisenhower hadn't changed the situation much—except for one aspect:

The President made it impossible for Republican candidates for the House and Senate to disavow Adams and still ride the coattails of a president most of them would like to praise in campaign speeches.

Perhaps significantly, almost the only members of Congress volunteering a good word for Eisenhower's decision to keep Adams at his desk were those not up for re-election this year.

Among Republican state chairmen calling for Adams' resignation or ouster were Richard H. Shaw of Colorado, Daniel L. Louchevy of West Virginia, William Cobb of North Carolina and Thomas Judd of Utah.

Alcorn told newsmen that the President, talking informally, had emphasized his belief in the importance of electing Republican majorities to the House and Senate next November. He said Eisenhower considered a Republican Congress "vital to the American people and to the preservation of free enterprise."

Outlines Philosophy The party chairman said the President also stressed the importance of work like the current Republican conference and of "organizational work at the voter level." Other parts of the President's speech were described by Alcorn as an outline of his "basic philosophy" in the field of national security and solvency of the government.

Alcorn reported that there was little discussion of political issues but that one state chairman had asked the President if he would comment on the business situation and the recession.

Eisenhower replied, according to Alcorn, that there were "very clear and significant indications that business conditions are improving."

Britain Cuts Interest Rate

It was an optimistic move opening another notch on the tight control valve holding back the nation's spending.

Foes Bother 'K' Kremlin Seen Shifting To Tough Line Policy

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY AP Foreign News Analyst The Kremlin has shifted to a tough line, and Nikita Khrushchev is apparently having a hard time with his enemies in the Soviet Communist party.

These two developments are related. American foreign policy toward a summit meeting may have contributed to both, willingly or unwittingly.

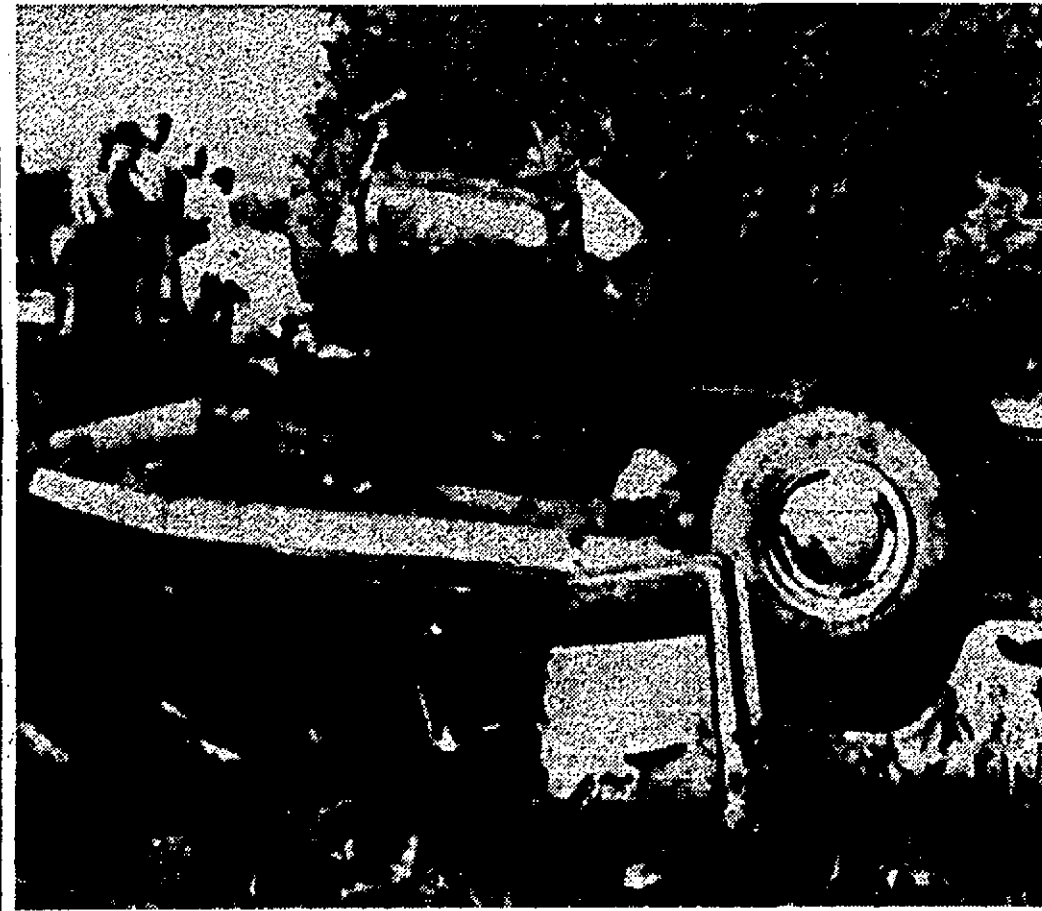

It is likely that Red China's influence is also playing a role.

Seemingly well-founded reports say that the anti-Khrushchev forces may have ganged up in a determined effort to clip the Russian chief's wings at the meeting of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee now under way in Moscow.

Since Stalin died in 1953 there has been a succession of crises of Soviet political leadership, each closely connected with internal and foreign policies. Out of each of them Khrushchev has emerged with increased power.

But these successes have not destroyed opposition. In fact there are indications it may be increasing.

One likely leader of anti-Khrushchev forces is the Central Committee secretary, Mikhail Suslov, a dogmatic Stalinist. Apparently Khrushchev has recently been moving in on Suslov—demoting the grand old man of Vienna's famous Burg Theater.

Ike Stresses GOP Control Of Congress

State Party Leaders Told Of Importance In Election In Fall

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower underscored for Republican state leaders today the importance of electing a GOP Congress in November but kept silent on the Sherman Adams case which is worrying them.

GOP National Chairman Neale A. Alcorn and others attending a breakfast meeting with the President reported that there was no mention of the Adams' case which linked the top presidential assistant with Boston Millionaire Bernard Goldfine.

"Campaign School" The President spent about an hour and 20 minutes with 43 Republican state chairmen and other party leaders assembled here for a "campaign school."

Alcorn told newsmen that the President, talking informally, had emphasized his belief in the importance of electing Republican majorities to the House and Senate next November. He said Eisenhower considered a Republican Congress "vital to the American people and to the preservation of free enterprise."

Outlines Philosophy The party chairman said the President also stressed the importance of work like the current Republican conference and of "organizational work at the voter level." Bank Will Issue Loans With Rate Slashed In Half

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—To encourage consumers in making major installment purchases, the Lake County National Bank will issue loans for that purpose next week at one-half the usual rate, bank officials said today.

The half-rate interest will apply to loans for purchases made in Lake County such as boats, automobiles, major appliances, and home improvements.

Rates vary depending upon what the loan is used for. But the interest rate on a new car, for instance, is around 6 per cent.

Radar Fence Will Pick Up Any Satellite

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department today ordered immediate construction of a new radar "fence" capable of detecting any silent military or scientific satellites flying as high as 1,000 miles across the United States.

"By the end of this year," a department spokesman said, the United States should be able to detect and track "all satellites" over this country whether or not they give out radio signals.

At present, Russian satellites are almost impossible to detect, except visually if their radios are not working.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advance Research Projects Agency, ordered construction and operation of radar detection facilities on the U. S. East and West Coasts by the Naval Research Laboratory. These will be "beefed up" mini-track stations now established at San Diego, Calif., and Blossom Point, Md.

In addition, a powerful radar transmitter will be built at Fort Worth, Tex., and receivers at White Sands, N. M., and at another location not yet chosen.

Probers Find New Goldfine Records Data

Information Tagged 'Very Interesting' By Rep. Harris, (D-Ark.)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said today his House investigations have come up with some "very interesting" new information from their first look at records of Bernard Goldfine.

Harris declined to say what the new information involves or how it will fit into his subcommittee's inquiry. That group is looking into whether Goldfine, a Boston industrialist and longtime friend of Sherman Adams, got favored treatment from the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

But the Arkansas Democrat disputed a White House contention that no FTC rules were broken when Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, passed on to Goldfine a memo from the FTC chairman.

The memo, dated Jan. 4, 1954, dealt with an FTC move against what was alleged to be mislabeling of fabrics by a Goldfine textile firm.

Some of Goldfine's records were finally obtained by subpoena from Mildred Papernan, a bookkeeper for Goldfine, late Tuesday after a subcommittee struggle with Goldfine's lawyers. The investigators are checking the data before resuming hearings next week.

The records reflect, among other things, Goldfine's payments of hotel bills in Boston, New York and Plymouth, Mass. Adams has acknowledged staying at hotels in those cities at Goldfine's expense but denied he sought or obtained special treatment for Goldfine at the federal agencies.

Posse Hunts Ape In Hills

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Armed police and banana-toting zokeepers searched the Hollywood hills through the night for Gus, an escaped orangutan.

The half-grown ape fled from Griffith Park Zoo Wednesday while his cage was being cleaned. Three carloads of police hunted the 65-pound beast along miles of roadways of the park. But zokeepers said they doubted if the weapons would be needed.

"He's very kind and gentle," said head keeper Mike Wendt. "He's very shy. And he's strictly a vegetarian."

But he said Gus might be dangerous if cornered or riled. Gus is 6 years old and is about 3 feet tall. His arms are long and powerful.

Arrival Has Raised Hope In Lebanon

U. N. Secretary Looks Into Situation; Rebels Inactive During Visit

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld arrived in Beirut today, bringing a glimmer of hope that he might end Lebanon's rebellion. The international diplomat flew in at dawn from London and New York. His reputation in the Middle East for mediating ticklish quarrels gave Lebanese some hope he might succeed where others failed.

The crisis-ridden country has endured 41 days of fighting, bombing, shootings and strikes in an effort by opposition political factions to overthrow pro-Western President Camille Chamoun. The people are thoroughly fed up and are looking for any solution that will end the trouble.

Rebels Pledge Truce Rebel leaders have promised a truce while Hammarskjöld is here. A furious battle raged in Beirut Wednesday, but government forces finally beat back the rebels and restored an uneasy quiet.

After a brief rest at his hotel, Hammarskjöld began talks with Norwegian Maj. Gen. Odd Bull, former President Galo Plaza Las-Vuol Ecuador and former Indian Ambassador to the U. N., Rejeswar Dayal—the three leaders of the U. N. observation team ordered by the Security Council to watch out for any aid to the rebels from the neighboring United Arab Republic.

As usual, Hammarskjöld refused to comment to newsmen on his plans. There was speculation he might, after conferring with the Lebanese, go on to Cairo to talk with U. A. R. President Nasser.

Some 50 unarmed observers already are here to check Lebanon's 150-mile border with the Syrian province of the U. A. R. The Lebanese government feels, however, that observation is not enough.

It decided Tuesday to ask Hammarskjöld for a sizable body of troops similar to the U. N. Emergency Force which separates Israel and Egyptian soldiers along their border.

Russia Raps Observers MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, today charged that the dispatch of U. N. military observers to embolden Lebanon was really a cloak for imperialist intervention in the Middle East.

"Through Lebanon," the paper said, "Anglo-American ruling circles are seeking to deal a blow to Damascus and Cairo and to the entire liberation movement of the Arab and African peoples."

Philippines' President Winding Up Aid Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia today coupled a request for U. S. economic assistance with a pledge to drive corruption from the Philippine government.

In a speech prepared for a National Press Club luncheon, he also asked for a careful review of outstanding financial claims by his government against the United States.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia winds up his drive for major U.S. economic help today, hopeful some agreements will be reached.

The third day of his state visit includes a speech to the National Press Club and talks with Secretary of State Dulles and congressional leaders.

Tonight President and Mrs. Garcia will give a farewell state dinner at the Philippine Embassy for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Both Philippine and American financial experts were working on details of a program for Philippine economic development. Garcia has labeled the program urgent and imperative.

A formal statement is to be issued Friday.

The total aid requested by the Philippines has not been disclosed. But it is reported to amount to some 350 million dollars in long term loans and credits.

There are more conventions held in Chicago than in any other city in the world.

House Plans Compromise Aid Bill Vote

$3.6 Billion Measure To Be Called Up Next Week, Morgan Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise $3,675,400,000 foreign aid program is ready for final congressional action.

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said today he will call up the authorization bill for a vote early next week. Passage there, and by the Senate later, would clear the way for action on a separate money bill to finance the spending for which the authorization bill sets terms and ceilings.

The program recommended Wednesday by Senate and House conferees is 266½ million dollars below President Eisenhower's request for military and economic help to friendly nations in the fiscal year starting bill still in House committee.

Before finishing work on the authorization measure, the conferees dropped a Senate amendment aimed at halting use of nonmilitary aid funds for purchase abroad of Japanese textiles and other commodities in competition with American business.

The bill provides $1,605,000,000 for military assistance (planes and other hardware) to allies, for which Eisenhower sought $1,800,000,000.

It also carries 810 million dollars of the 835 millions the President asked for defense supports. This is economic aid for allied countries to enable them to support adequate military forces.

Working Wives Views Changed By Churchmen

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Four Methodist district superintendents have backtracked on a previous stand that minister's wives shouldn't work full time.

In a report at the annual meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Conference (360 churches) the superintendents reaffirmed their basic stand, but added:

"We have no doubt that this practice is sometimes necessary and usually helpful in paying old bills, putting children through schools and preparing for that rainy day."

Khrushchev is a ruthless opportunist. He has been engaged in a vast reform of the Soviet system, including a reorganization of industry, agriculture and education. The changes he has espoused, particularly those in agriculture, have aroused bitter opposition in the Soviet bureaucracy. These opponents have been watchfully waiting for some resounding failure by Khrushchev.

They now have this failure—on the summit conference question. American diplomacy may have helped to produce this situation by taking a thoroughly negative attitude toward a summit meeting.

Red China also helped because Peiping apparently did everything to torpedo a summit meeting at which it would not be represented.

Why can't people understand that getting all steamed up about the summer heat only makes them hotter?

Shock Over Nagy's Death Spurs Probe

Watchdog Committee On Hungary In U. N. Summoned To Meet

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The U. N. Special Committee on Hungary will meet Friday to consider the situation arising out of the execution of former Premier Imre Nagy and others who held power in the 1956 uprising.

A speedy meeting of the U. N. watchdog committee on Hungary was in the offing today to set up a sounding board for the non-Communist world's shock and indignation over the execution of Imre Nagy and three other leaders of the abortive Hungarian revolt.

Western reaction to the Moscow-directed executions ranged from Italy's decision to curtail diplomatic relations with the Budapest regime to a refugee demonstration against the Hungarian team at the world soccer games in Stockholm.

Several Requests
E. Ronald Walker of Australia, acting chairman of the five-member U. N. committee, said he had several requests for a meeting. He asked the U. N. secretariat to set one up "as soon as practicable" and said it might be held tomorrow.

Composed of members from Denmark, Ceylon, Tunisia, Australia and Uruguay, the committee was established by the General Assembly in 1957. It found the Soviet Union guilty of "massive repression" in putting down the 1956 revolt in Hungary.

The execution of Nagy and his associates brought immediate suggestions for a resumption of its inquiry.

Ask Public Meeting
Another suggestion was for a public meeting to dramatize U.N. concern. Previous meetings generally have been held in private. The United States has attempted to focus attention on Soviet tactics during the revolt whenever possible, and the U. S. delegation began pressing for a committee meeting soon after the executions were announced by Moscow this week.

U. S.-Soviet Relationships Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday he was unable to say whether it would be worth while to continue his long and voluminous exchange of letters with Khrushchev in the light of such incidents as the execution of former Premier Imre Nagy of Hungary.

Both men appear convinced that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is following much tougher policies, but they are not sure why.

State Department experts looking for an answer admittedly do not have all the necessary facts. For example, they are not sure why Soviet ambassadors from the United States and other key Western countries were called back.

One speculation is that Khrushchev may be planning some new maneuver in foreign affairs with respect to a summit conference or possibly Soviet trade with the Western industrial countries. Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday he was unable to say whether it would be worth while to continue his long and voluminous exchange of letters with Khrushchev in the light of such incidents as the execution of former Premier Imre Nagy of Hungary.

He said that the execution of Nagy, who was premier at the time of the Hungarian revolt against Soviet communism in late 1956, showed that the Soviets are following "policies of terror and intimidation . . . to bring about complete subservience to their will."

West Virginia Driver Posts Bond For Manslaughter In Highway Death

James Edward Elsey, about 24, of Corinth, W. Va., who was charged with involuntary manslaughter by auto in the death of Leonard L. Hershman, 29, of Kingwood, early Sunday morning, has been released under $1,000 bond.

The young driver of the car, who was arrested by authorities and lodged in Preston County Jail at Kingwood, waived a preliminary hearing before Mrs. Jessie S. Wolfe, justice of the peace in Terra Alta. Elsey was released on bond.

for appearance before the grand jury of the October term of Preston County Circuit Court. Hershman, who was asleep at the time of the accident at Hope, died of a fractured skull, authorities said.

The car went out of control and crashed into a tree about 3:55 a. m. Sunday. The victim died about three hours later in Garrett County Memorial Hospital at Oakland. The driver was uninjured.

Kingwood by Trooper John Gribben, who also investigated the fatal crash. Hershman, who was an employee of the Ralph McCabe Coal Company of near Kingwood, was married and the father of one son.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union for ever.—Morris.

Three Steps

THREE MAIN factors are operative in the auto accident picture. The first and most important of these is the ability and fallibility of drivers—their skill, temperament, judgment, physical condition, and so forth. A second factor is the laws that regulate driving, and the extent to which they are enforced. A third is the equipment involved, including vehicles and the road systems over which they pass.

EACH OF THESE factors is an avenue for improvement. If society is to make a really substantial reduction in the shocking highway toll, then each of these three avenues for improvement must be utilized to the greatest feasible extent. In each case, much more could be done than has been done in the past. Training people to be better drivers—not only more skillful, but much more aware of their responsibility to exercise judgment and restraint and old-fashioned courtesy—is essential, but it takes a lot of time. Improving laws and stepping up enforcement also require much time.

EVEN SO, IT MIGHT as well be said here again that there's no time like now for a new and more vigorous attack on these twin aspects of the highway problem. The same goes for the third: equipment. Detroit knows more about safety engineering than it is building into cars. Research on devices to avert accidents has almost reached fruition in some cases. The missing element is a strong, unmistakable demand that the fullest possible use be made of what is known about how to prevent or at least reduce accidents by mechanical means.

Mental Care Lags

IT USED TO BE said that the way to get the best medical care was to be either very rich or very poor. In between those two extremes, adequate medical care was beyond reach. To a large extent, this difference no longer prevails; medical insurance gives some protection to millions who would have been without such help a decade or two ago. In one area of medical concern, however, there has been relatively little improvement. A recent study made by two Yale University professors shows that there are great differences in the quality of treatment given the mentally ill. Patients with small financial means are generally sent to state-supported hospitals, frequently crowded and under-staffed. According to the two scholars, quick treatment is often given these less affluent patients. In contrast, they say, those who are able to afford the expense of psychoanalysis get it. Psychoanalysis may cost as much as $150 per week. Private hospitals caring for the mentally ill often charge from $7,000 to $20,000 per year per patient. From the standpoint of cost alone, it is not difficult to understand the wide disparity in the kind and amount of treatment available to those afflicted with this most prevalent disorder, mental illness. Eventually—and the sooner the better—we must find means of seeing to it that anyone so afflicted receives the best care possible. When that time comes, all society will benefit.

Venetian Crisis

IT SEEMS TO GET harder and harder for some European cities to keep the quaintness that attracts tourists. For example, take Venice, where colorful gondolas ply the waters of the city's fabled canals. Thousands of gondoliers used to row up and down these unique roadways. But today there are only 437 left, and they're pretty nettled over their working conditions. The other day a motorboat struck a gondola, sank it and dunked the gondolier. Speedboats and ferries dash about madly, narrowly missing the gondolas again and again, creating great waves. The way it's going, sea-sick pills will be needed as standard equipment for both pilots and passengers. But now the gondoliers are putting their foot down (on land, in St. Mark's Square). They want these modern craft strictly controlled, so the gondolas can at least keep their tourist customers. If they don't get action, they say they'll take their gondolas and go. Venice had better respond. Without gondolas it might get to be known merely as the Amsterdam of the South.

WITH international fault-finding going on at such a pace, foreign office supply men must be hard put to keep up with the demand for notes and beams.

Pressure On Adams Comes From His Party

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Sherman Adams is probably correct in saying that her husband will be forced to resign, but the real pressure on the White House is coming not, as she suggested, from Democrats, but from livid and frightened Republicans.

Democrats in Congress have been told by their leaders that this fire needs no stoking for the present. The word is to let the Harris subcommittee carry on and assurances are given that it has plenty of kindling.

The story is mushrooming on several levels.

THE HARRIS subcommittee began to put in the background. Its probes named the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, as another temporary stop for what is now known here as the oldest permanent floating hotel home.

The Waldorf tab picked up by industrialist Bernard Goldfine for Adams: $529.34.

The basis was laid, too, for arguing that Goldfine may have profited, after all, by Adams's intercession. It was disclosed that a Federal Trade Commission attorney had "vigorously recommended" criminal prosecution for Goldfine but was overruled by his superiors. They settled for a promise by Goldfine to change the textile labels which were the basis of the complaint.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower was back in his office, receiving the news, counsel and complaints. Further comment was denied by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, which was a move in the direction of common sense, since the Adams silence leaves Hagerty weaponless.

It was announced that the President would hold his regular weekly conference. Betting was about even on whether he would withhold judgment until the whole story was in or would announce Adams's resignation.

Politicians privately discussed the case as offering a hard choice to the President.

ETHICALLY and politically, they felt, his course was clear. On such grounds, they saw no alternative to the firing of Adams.

But they also have watched the President's management of the government establishment for five and a half years and they see Adams as the nearest thing to the indispensable man in Washington.

On his spare shoulders has rested the entire burden of the day-to-day operations of the domestic establishment. The President has no taste for that and never had. It is Adams who has set policy, seen people, cleared what went before the President.

VETERANS here realize that every government operation carries with it a heavy freight of background, detail, secrets and people. Only Adams knows it; he has tirelessly worked at it. Experienced men ask themselves seriously if the government itself will not suffer if Adams is suddenly dropped.

Then there are the jokes. A fair sample tells about the wire service photographer who complained bitterly about "lack of cooperation" from Adams.

"All I wanted was for him to pose wearing that vicuna coat, standing on that rug and holding those hotel receipts," said the photographer. "But I couldn't get anywhere."

Adams Row Spotlights Other GOP Cases

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The cases of Eisenhower administration officials' "bad judgment" — to use the polite phrase — are growing into quite a formidable list. Democratic orators will unquestionably use it in their 1958 and 1960 campaigns.

Ex-Gov. Sherman Adams, The Assistant to the President, defends his acceptance of $2,000 worth of hotel hospitality from his old friend Bernard Goldfine.

But this was just the kind of stuff the Republicans made political hay with in 1952, after Democratic administration officials were caught accepting Florida hotel hospitality from five-per centers.

The two things that stuck in most voters' minds in 1952 were probably the $9,450 mink coat given to White House stenographer Mrs. Merl Young and the $300 home freezer accepted by White House aides Harry Vaughan, Matt Connelly James K. Vardaman and Mrs. Bess Truman herself.

REPUBLICANS, coming into power in 1953, have refined this crude technique quite a bit.

Last October Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower accepted $1,800 worth of beaver pelts which she had made into a coat at a cost to her of $385. This was accepted on the grounds that the publicity would help the Maine fur trappers. The dumb Democrats never thought of that.

Then last January Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced that there were five TV sets in the White House "on loan" from manufacturers. "What is wrong with it?"

The GOP made the most of Democratic "mistakes in judgment" like that. They compiled a "Democratic Corruption Chronology, 1945-52." It was 14 pages long and it listed 154 examples, though there were some duplications.

Many of these cases involved district internal revenue agents, state and local politicians.

NOBODY has yet compiled a comparable list during the Republican years from 1953 to date—like the Orville Hodge scandals in Illinois. But it might be an interesting research project some time.

There are, however, a dozen or more cases of Washington Republican officials' "bad judgment" in the last five and a half years which can be compared with similar Democratic cases.

Highlights of the GOP list run like this:

March, 1953 — GOP Chairman C. Wesley Roberts resigns after disclosure of Kansas state lobbying activities.

July, 1955 — The late Harold E. Talbott resigns as Air Force Secretary after charges of soliciting private business.

October, 1955 — T. Coleman Andrews resigns as Internal Revenue commissioner to head a casualty company that had a five-and-a-half-million-dollar tax case pending.

November, 1955 — Peter A. Strobel resigns as public building commissioner after charges he used his office to further interests of his private engineering firm's clients.

November, 1955 — Hugh W. Cross resigns as Interstate Commerce Commission chairman after Senate probe of his intervention in a Chicago transportation contract.

November, 1955 — Dixon-Yates contract declared invalid because Adolph H. Wenzel acted as Budget Bureau consultant while an executive of First Boston Corp., a financial agent.

FEBRUARY, 1956 — Edmund F. Mansure resigns as General Services administrator after disclosures of alleged favoritism in awarding Nicaragua, Cuba, nickel mill contracts.

May, 1956 — Murray H. Chotiner, California campaign manager for Nixon and Knowland, questioned by Senate on his activities for airline and clothing manufacturer clients.

June, 1956 — Robert B. MacLeish resigns as Farmers Home Administrator after charges of personal misconduct.

July, 1956 — Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing uses government autos and planes on Mexico hunting trip.

January, 1957 — Asst. Secy. of Defense Robert Tripp Ross re-

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — One of H. G. Wells' most famous science fiction stories is "The Time Machine," and a battalion of editors has used it across the years since 1894-95, when an English magazine serialized it. But what no editor has done since then is to run the complete story—because Chapter XIII has always been missing. The first book version left it out, although it was available in the magazine copies.

Months ago Leo Margulies, publisher of "Satellite," a science-fiction magazine, put up the money for a search for the missing chapter, telling his literary bloodhounds to comb libraries in England and the United States. But the missing chapter was found less than 100 feet away in the New York Public Library across the street at 42nd Street and Fifth Avenue.

The August issue of "Satellite," on the stands this month, will carry the long-lost chunk of Wellsian writing. It fills in a continuity gap which has puzzled editors—and fans of Wells—for 64 years. All of which makes another first for Margulies, who dislikes puzzling gaps.

A FRIEND just back from Spain, where they do everything with sherry but paint barns or grease wagon axles, offers four summertime concoctions as the Spanish prepare them: Andalus, popular in Madrid, with all classes of groggers, consists of two ounces of sherry in a highball glass of orange juice, or the Spanish version of the Turkish Screwdriver; The Extremaduran, two ounces of vodka in a shaker of cracked ice, six drops of the dry, dry sherry, a twist of lemon peel and several vigorous shakes; Guadalajara Spritzer: dry sherry and soda in a highball glass with finely cracked ice; The Martinez: four parts gin, one part dry fino sherry and a stuffed olive.

No mention of The Millionaire's Funeral: seven different sherrys, none less than 10 years old, on a bed of crushed mint and shaved ice, with a section of orange, skin and all.

THIS THING of paying $150 or $175 for a summer suit of imported silk is silly. I know a place in New York where they sell Dupioni silk suits for $39.75—and do the alterations without fee. But you have to walk up three flights.

For that matter, I know a mail order house in Brooklyn where they sell you 20 assorted dresses for $3.50. Of course, they aren't new, but for $3.50 who expects Schiaparelli? At 17½ cents per dress you aren't going to get satin, either.

And, to complete the roster of bargains, there is a place in Newark, New Jersey, which will mail you a million dollars if you send them $2.98. It's Confederate money in assorted denominations, but it adds up to exactly one million dollars. Only four million dollars to a customer, by the way.

WHICH reminds me that I took a Texan out to dinner and the theater the other night and when he tried to reach for the check he unfolded a wallet which later developed to contain $35,000 in cash.

"Are you crazy?" I cried, "running around here with that much money in your pocket?"

"Well, I didn't know how things would shape up," he said. "Just as well be ready."

The evening came to about $40, which I paid, and even if he had paid, as I told him later, he still would be loose on the town with $34,600, or an amount calculated to get him in trouble. Houston fellow, first time in New York.

ONE OF THE best motor vehicle laws the State of New York ever has enacted probably won't save many lives or crushed fenders, but it will make cars tidier. Soon it will be against the law to hang baby dolls, baby shoes, plush dice or anything else from the rear vision mirror post in cars. Nor can stuffed tigers or dressed dolls two feet tall occupy the rear window ledge.

Too many minor accidents caused by the distracting and obscuring ways of these ornaments. The swaying of the objects hanging from the post also caused a hypnotic effect with consequent damage to drivers' alertness.

Engineers Miss Nice Trip

NEW YORK — The gents who had my sympathy were Peter Grace and helpers trying to inaugurate in style their new $25,000,000 liner, the Santa Rosa. They managed it, but it wasn't easy.

Their saga of high life on the high seas started last Saturday afternoon at Newport News, Va., where the Santa Rosa was scheduled to sail on her maiden voyage to New York at 4 p. m. Aboard were 250 good customers of the Grace Line, Congressmen, Maritime officials, their wives, my Hilda and me.

THE FLAGS were fluttering, the band was tooting and the stewards were passing out champagne, but the hosts were down below arguing with the licensed engineers, who figured that sailing time for a ship loaded with top brass was a perfect moment to call a strike.

The argument was simple. The Coast Guard said eight licensed engineers aboard the Santa Rosa would be plenty; Lewis Lapham, president of the Grace Line, said he'd like to hire nine. The union said take 15, or else.

Sailing time came, but no sailing. Management finally said it would hire 10 engineers; the union said 12. By 8 p. m. the distinguished guests were digging into filets mignon, washing them down with bubbly water, and suffering no pain.

LAPHAM, a veteran of more than 2,000 labor disputes, during signs after Army contract award to his wife's firm.

February, 1958 — Texas GOP committeeman Jack Porter sells $100-a-plate dinner tickets to honor House Republican Joe Martin, whose influence was said to be vital in securing passage of natural gas bill.

February, 1958 — Chairman John C. Doerfer and three other Federal Communications Commissioners challenged on government expense accounts after being entertained by broadcasters.

this decades in the shipping business, was figuring on announcing a cruise to nowhere, there at the dock, to last as long as the food and drink.

He ordered the engineers off the ship; this hurt most of the latter, who were long-time employees of the line, but who had no choice as union members. It particularly saddened Albert E. Hunter, the chief engineer, to whom the maiden voyage was a climax to his career at sea. Sadly he walked down the gangplank.

Lapham and helpers, meantime, were on the phones, trying to round up some more licensed engineers. At 10 p. m. came aboard eight such men, members of an independent union, and the Santa Rosa eased into Hampton Roads, where the would-be celebrators on shore long since had left. A couple of toots from a pair of coal barges was all the salute she got as she headed to sea.

THE REST of the voyage was happier. Even Grace and Lapham managed to smile on Sunday morning. Their beautiful ship was behaving perfectly; the new engineers, obviously, knew their business, and the supplies of food and liquid refreshments seemed to be inexhaustible.

So there was dancing far into the night, and along about 4 a. m. Lapham's associates discovered a grievous error in the design of their ship.

The bartenders in the Club Tropicana, where plate glass windows on three sides overlooked the sea, were about to drop from weariness, but there was no way to close the bar. No locks on the liquor shelf, and plenty of amateur bartenders ready to take over.

Lapham said he'd surely get some sort of padlock for the whisky supply before the Santa Rosa took her first cruise de luxe to the Caribbean on June 26. Otherwise he could find no fault.

THE SEA GREW rough Sunday night, but the passengers had to look at the waves to know it. Gyro-stabilizers down below, like wings in the water, kept the ship on an even keel.

She ran through the Bermuda yacht racers and, skimming south she gave the passengers a look at one of the government's aircraft warning towers (it resembled a milk stool sticking up from the sea) and finally subjected them to one of New York's welcomes for new ships.

This consisted of a dozen tugs (one bearing a lady with roses for the captain), three fireboats spouting water, four helicopters and three planes overhead, and enough whistle tooting to hurt a fellow's ears.

It was an elegant trip and I'm sorry those unfortunate engineers never got to come along.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Many lifelong scholars of the great American frozen female face have thought it could be improved.

Their varying approach to the problem probably measures their age and optimism. Being older and perhaps therefore more cynical, I leaned to the theory that it was better to get along with life than fight it—and I came to accept the great American frozen female face as inevitable.

I came to feel it was natural to shake womanhood by her lifted nose rather than her withheld hand.

American girls!

Then I met Sophia Loren. A living bonfire. A tawny surprise. A girl with an unfrozen face, a tall-stemmed girl. As she walked away with a rearward muscular schizophrenia, some muscles went clockwise, some counter-clockwise.

A male human heart could only extend sympathy to her in her handicap.

HER WALK, THOUGH, had a mixture of cruelty and kindness — half-panther, half-gazelle. It was all the art of Italy, ambulant.

She had the presence and security of a sunrise. Her expression from moment to moment was a race of rainbows.

"I am still young," she said. "Life is always exciting to me. I am never bored. I have worked since I was fifteen. I have worked hard. I have made 26 pictures. I don't know what it means to have a holiday. I don't know whether I want one. But yes, now that I am married, I want a holiday."

UNLIKE MOST American women, whose conduct is ruled strictly from a cerebral level as every fellow knows, Sophia moves as the amoeba does.

"I never took a lesson in acting," she said. "I am very instinctive."

"If I feel something, I can do it. If I don't feel it, it is very difficult for me."

"But everything is still new to me. It is nice when you can learn something new every day. I have just started life. I haven't lived yet."

The only thing she admits to hating in her life is to be an amateur.

"Nothing bores me. Acting is an excitement to me. I want to do more, not because of ambition, but because it is a pleasure to me, a release," she said.

There is something vital and alive and warm and human and near about the face of Sophia Loren.

And there is only one difference between it and the great set frozen American female face you can see every day on any street. One looks alive.

George Dixon

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — At a buffet supper the other night I found myself squatting on a tuft next to a man who told me the most extraordinary things in casual conversation. As if it were a commonplace matter, that could happen to anybody, he remarked that right here in this country he owned a mountain of jade.

In the writer of introductions I had failed to catch his name. I probably wouldn't have become so interested in him except that when George Killian, former Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, spied us talking together, he let out a whoop and said:

"This fellow is really something. Get him to tell you what he did to FDR!"

At this, another guest perked up his ears, and jugged his way across the room to us, balancing an overloaded plate.

"What is all this?" demanded the new addition to our little group. "I'd like to hear it too."

THE NEWCOMER's interest was understandable because he happened to be FDR's oldest son, Rep. James Roosevelt, of California. The jade mountain man chuckled reminiscently and recited:

"Well, one time when I was running the Hammer Galleries in New York I came into possession of a silver ship model from the old Russian Royal Court. Charles Ward, the calendar tycoon, bought it from me for $10,000, saying he wanted to present it to your father, Jim. I went to Washington with him to make the presentation. FDR thought it would be a nice gesture if the Russian Ambassador, Maxim Litvinov, were invited to participate in the ceremonies."

Litvinov expressed rapture over the ship, particularly when I informed him that it had a music box in its innards. But when FDR found the thing up and started it playing, Litvinov's rapture rapidly faded.

"We were all mystified by the Russian's sudden coldness. FDR asked him what was wrong. The old Bolshevik granted that the tune it was playing was 'God Save the Czar.'"

I figured it might be sound reportorial practice if I learned the identity of the raconteur. I discovered he was Col. Armand Hammer, new chairman of the board of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

I told him I'd like to hear more about his mountain of jade. He reached in his pocket and pulled out a batch of key rings, from all of which dangled a hunk of green stone. He presented one to each of us, saying:

"That's jade from my mountain."

WE RUBBED the jade, as he instructed. He informed us that, if we were Chinese, we would consider this good luck. I rubbed my hunk of jade, hoping things would improve for me anyway. Col. Hammer went on with his strange narrative.

He said he had befriended an Indian in — of all places — Las Vegas, where even an Indian can use a friend. The redskin told him that a mountain of jade stuck straight up where anyone could see it, in the Swer River area, near Lander, Wyo.

The broadcasting bigwig said he was incredulous, but found the tale to be absolutely true. He bought the whole mountain and already has mined 100,000 pounds of jade. He declared he now has good reason to believe that his is the largest deposit of jade in the world.

"The odd thing," he added, "is that the Chinese knew about this deposit long before anyone else suspected it. We have since discovered that Chinese laborers, working on the first railroad to go through that territory, found the jade and sent big hunks of it home. It was polished there, and much of it imported back to this country."

"In the old days, many rich Americans bought Chinese jade that came from W."

STOCK MARKET SOARS — News that the administration does not favor an immediate dollar stabilization plan which would interfere with rising prices on American markets was received enthusiastically in speculative quarters today. Stocks soared in active trading on the New York Exchange as the dollar slumped afresh in foreign exchange trading.

FDR PROGRAM OPPOSED — Flat opposition to President Roosevelt's price raising program was laid by the French before the world economic conference today in Paris. The French urge the world to adopt governmental agreements regulating the production and exportation of basic raw material.

BABE PUT TO BED — Babe Ruth, home run slugger for the New York Yankees, was ordered to bed at his hotel in Chicago after he complained of illness caused by escaping gas from a sewer near the Yankee bench at Comiskey Park. His illness is, not serious, physicians said.

FIRST BEER FEES — The city treasurer this morning received two checks totaling in excess of $5,600, the amount representing the collection of fees for beer licenses within the corporate limits of Cumberland.

The roll call of states began amidst a demonstration for Roosevelt, but his name was not officially presented to the convention and he received but three votes. James S. Sherman of Utica, N. Y., is the vice presidential nominee.

FIREMEN RESIGN — All members of Central Fire Department quit their jobs this morning because Chief Clugston was asked to resign by Mayor Kean. The dispute arose over an order by the mayor that the chief exercise the horses by having them haul the sprinkler along Baltimore Street. Mayor Kean has named a force to replace the fire crew, headed by Chief Thomas Connell.

CIA Employment Test Offers Tough Hurdle

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — The toughest employment hurdles in the United States government are those set up before applicants for jobs with the critically sensitive Central Intelligence Agency.

Only about 1 in 15 makes the grade.

A whole section of a CIA headquarters building is taken up by elaborate equipment designed to probe the thoughts, feelings, inhibitions and rationality of those who would become American espionage agents.

There's even a lie detector — and it's used as a matter of course.

The rigorous tests are set up to weed out the security risks who may range from infiltrating Soviet agents to just plain blabbermouths.

Rumors occasionally make the rounds to the effect that the CIA spies unnecessarily into the sex lives of its women employees. The agency denies that it asks questions about what is regarded as normal sex experience.

The "only sex question asked," says the CIA, is: "Are you a homosexual?"

A second question, which might have bearing on sex, is: "Have you ever done anything for which you could be blackmailed?"

As far as can be learned, the CIA is the only government agency that employs the lie detector on a mass scale as a normal personnel practice.

An applicant can refuse to take the test and still be hired but it is extremely unlikely. And if he is hired, his chances of advancement to a more sensitive post are virtually nil.

Even after he lands a job, a CIA employee may be asked to take the test again. Some employees have taken second and third tests after being suspected of wrongdoing while on the job.

The lie detector was not introduced by CIA chief Allen Dulles, who has held the post 3½ years. He inherited it from his predecessor. But he has continued it without apology.

Have the Russians ever succeeded in planting an operative inside the CIA?

There has never been a direct public answer to that question. Some time ago Dulles was asked about it and he skirted a flat yes-or-no reply.

"I naturally assume," he said, "that the Soviets will attempt to penetrate the CIA. . . I don't think they are going to find it easy, (but) we are going to keep on our guard all the time."

The dangerous role of spy holds a strange attraction for many wealthy socialites and college graduates who could take it easy or strike it rich in other fields.

Dulles acknowledges that 5 of his top 20 officials are independently wealthy, earning as much from outside sources as they do from CIA. This includes Dulles himself, a Princeton grad, who makes $21,000 a year as director.

The CIA operates on the theory that a person's Ivy League background, social graces or wealth should not bar him from a spot in the nation's espionage network.

What is more important, says CIA, is a person's competence, his dedication and his willingness to accept the anonymity that necessarily goes with the job. Those who treat the work as a glamorous sideline don't last long.

Girl Scouts Select Name For Campsite

The Girl Scouts have adopted a name for their new established camp near Flintstone, along Flintstone Creek.

The 80-acre camping area will be known as "Camp Tioga."

All registered scouts and adults were asked to submit names for the new campsite and a committee of adults and scouts screened several suggestions.

The word "Tioga" appeared in several suggestions. In checking the word, the committee found that an old Indian trail which paralleled Martin's Mountain along the road by the campsite was known as the "Tioga Trail." So the committee unanimously adopted and the board approved the name "Camp Tioga."

Adults on the name committee were Mrs. Karl G. Perry and Mrs. Aden Everstine. Girl Scouts on the committee were Elaine Solomon, Billie Holbrook and Connie Hauger.

The red jungle fowl of India is the common ancestor of the many present-day varieties of chickens.

Expected Recovery Trend In Business Led By Metals Industry

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Much of the better feeling about business prospects today is based on an apparent recovery in the hard hit metals industries.

Many expect the trend to be reversed next month, at least for the time being, and look for no sure sign that the recovery is real instead of artificial until after Labor Day.

The present situation has a brighter glow, however, than some of the metals industries have known for months.

Steel mills in eight weeks have pulled production up from less than half of capacity to nearly two thirds of potential output.

Copper prices have steadied and then advanced, here and in London, after a two year slide.

Aluminum, zinc and lead producers have urged the government to give them the same helping hand that steadied the copper industry. Some think they'll get it — namely, government purchases for the strategic defense stockpile.

Since the metals industries are basic to the economy their recent flush of better health has given a sprightlier tone to business thinking. This is so in spite of some skepticism who suspect the flush won't last and even point out some artificial aspects of it.

Mill's apparently have plenty of ore and scrap for current operations.

Copper men have watched the price of the metal slide from 46 cents this January, as demand fell off and stocks mounted. Wide-spread cutbacks in production here and abroad gave copper a healthier tone but demand hasn't revived, copper men say.

Uncle Sam has come to the rescue. Congress is considering a proposal for the strategic stockpile to buy up to 150,000 tons of copper at the market price, up to 27 cents a pound, for the stockpile.

by Congress, the suspended tariff will be restored. At the current market price in the 25 to 26 cents range the tariff amounts to 1.7 cents a pound, enough to block off some foreign metal at the higher prices recently set abroad.

The copper industry is looking for some tariff relief soon, too, barring action otherwise.

Driver Sentenced In Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harrison Payton, 28, of Washington, has been sentenced to six months in jail and fined $250 on a charge of negligent homicide. The charge resulted from the traffic death last Labor Day of Miss Betsy Eloise Root, 21, a Washington resident who formerly lived in Cumberland, Md.

Payton, a receiving clerk for a Silver Spring, Md. bakery, had his driving permit revoked for 30 days in 1948 and for nine months in 1949-50, according to Asst. U. S. Atty. Frank J. Wilson. Wilson told Municipal Court Judge Thomas C. Scalley, who sentenced Payton, that if the case had gone to trial, testimony "would have shown that the car in which the victim (Miss Root) was a passenger might have gone through a stop sign before the crash."

Westernport Town Council Accepts 1958-59 Budget

HONORED — Dr. H. O. Henderson, for many years of the Dairy Husbandry Department and now professor of dairy husbandry at West Virginia University, was given the coveted teaching award in dairy production at the 53rd annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Association at North Carolina State College last night. The award totals $1,000. A graduate of Pennsylvania State University and the University of Minnesota, he joined the WVU faculty in 1916 and has remained on the staff since that time.

WESTERNPORT — The Town Council of Westernport last night unanimously adopted the 1958-59 budget submitted by Mayor Ray L. Wilt. Estimated income for the community will be $123,000, and expenditures about $122,700.

W. J. Fitzgerald, a salesman of the Uniontown branch of the Rockwell Manufacturing Company, demonstrated parking meters. About a year ago, the town ordered 25 meters from this firm and later cancelled the order. Fitzgerald stated, he did not blame council for stopping shipment due to a strike over which the company had no control. He stated there are various communities in this area, including Keyser, Romney, LaVale, Morgantown and others using his firm's meters.

Mayor Wilt indicated that council may purchase some Rockwell meters the cost of which is $27.20 without couplings.

The town has begun installing meters in business places.

Beau Davison and Raymond Haran, Vine Street, were granted permission to cut the pavement and retaining wall down in front of their residences to make a drive-in into their properties.

Arnold Clark, a contractor, appeared in their behalf.

Payments totaling $5,137.50 were made to the Citizens National Bank as follows: $506.25, bond interest account; $1,500, bond service account; and $3,131.25, bond redemption account. These amounts are for water bonds sold to build the filtration plant.

An inspection of properties served water by the town will be made by Mrs. Fanny Grove and Mrs. Peggy Shaw. Council ordered that they be paid $200 for the service, the amount to be divided between them. These women are employed during the months when school is in session to direct traffic.

If any person refuses to permit them to make an inspection, the water ordinance provides, service may be discontinued until permission is given for the inspection.

Horace P. Whitworth Sr., who has served as town attorney for many years, was reappointed at a salary of $100 per year.

The report of the Mayor and Commissioners' recent inspection of streets in town was given by L. C. Lambert, street commissioner, who was authorized to purchase a ladder so town employees can change globes in traffic lights.

City Jailers Worry Over Hospitality

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — (UPI) — City jailers are wondering if there is something wrong with their hospitality.

Bell Ringers Event Slated At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The Potomac English Handbell Ringers, under the direction of Nancy Poore Tufts, will present a program of classical and contemporary music tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Potomac Teachers College.

This is the first presentation of the current season by Frostburg Community Programs, Inc., and is being brought here on request of various Homemaker clubs in this section. The bell ringers appeared before the Maryland convention of Homemakers at College Park last summer.

A total of $962.75 is needed to meet the quota which will then be matched by an anonymous donor. The Frostburg Rotary Club is sponsoring a dance tomorrow at the Clary Club in order to swell this total, which must be realized by June 30.

Letters have been mailed to a number of local persons, asking them to help with this project.

Club Plans Camp

The Senior 4-H Club met at the home of Darlene Steele recently and made plans for the camp to be held July 26 through August 2. All reservations must be made by July 13, and stories must be submitted to Mrs. Ruth Morgan before going to camp.

It was announced that county demonstrations would be held July 7 and 8. Judy Robeson and Alene Frost will enter a demonstration. The district demonstration will be held July 22.

On July 9, open house will be held at the Extension house in Cumberland from 1 to 3:30 p. m. and transportation will be provided for all club members.

The next meeting will be held at the Frostburg swimming pool July 14 at 11:30 a. m.

To Hold Festival

St. John's Episcopal Church will hold its annual strawberry festival Saturday from 7 to 9 p. m. on Sloyer Street. The group is featuring cartoons, candy, grab bag, fish pond, games of skill and cotton candy.

Frostburg Police To Wage Drive Against Air Rifles

FROSTBURG — Police Chief Lloyd Truly announced this morning that a number of complaints have been received by his department concerning the shooting of air guns in the city limits. Youths have endangered lives and property by shooting in the vicinity of children and at street lights, he said.

The chief stated that if any boy or girl is caught in the act of shooting, the gun will be confiscated and the child and his or her parents prosecuted. A city ordinance forbids the discharge of air rifles or guns within the city limits.

Truly also asked motorists to maintain care in driving on city streets now that school is out. During this week and next, several hundred children will be traveling the streets daily to the vacation Bible Schools and he has asked that motorists be especially careful around 8:30 to 9 a. m. and noon.

The chief also pointed out that bicycle licenses have been received at City Hall and will be issued next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m. at the police station. All bicycles must be brought to the station and examined for horns, brakes, lights and fenders. No license will be issued to any bike having a siren. The fee is 50 cents per bike.

This licensing, Truly said, performs two services for the cyclist. It gives a method of identification in case the vehicle is lost or stolen, and it causes the bike to be in a safe condition to ride, at least at the time of the inspection. He urged that they be kept in good condition at all times as "it may save the driver's life when he least expects it."

Blood Banks Face Annual Summer Shortages

WASHINGTON—(UPI)—Some few weeks, newspapers will carry where in America, in the next a headline that will shock many readers. It will say, in effect: "Blood shortage forces local hospitals to suspend all operations except emergencies." "It happens every summer," an official of the American Red Cross explained. "The regular donors go away on vacation and the supply of blood falls off. Then the hospitals encounter an unusual run of accidents or surgical cases, and the regional blood bank finds its reserve stocks dropping to the danger point." The Red Cross usually is able to meet the crisis by appealing through newspapers and broadcasting stations for blood donors to come on the run. And if worse comes to worst, the temporarily-bankrupt blood bank can borrow an emergency supply from another regional center. But the perennial recurrence of these shortages demonstrates the narrow margin that always exists between the amount of blood that hospitals need, and the amount that healthy Americans are willing to give through the Red Cross and other agencies. Each year, more than 4,500,000 pints of blood flow through the life line that leads from the arms of donors in collecting stations to the arms of desperately-ill patients in hospitals. Even a temporary interruption of supply at the giving end can be serious. Blood can be stored only 21 days before the red cells deteriorate. After that it can be used to produce blood fractions such as plasma and gamma globulin. But it is useless for whole blood transfusions. Keeping the life line filled has become one of the major responsibilities of the Red Cross since its civilian blood program was inaugurated ten years ago. Through its 51 regional blood centers, the Red Cross collects about 40 per cent of all the blood used in hospitals. The rest is collected by the hospitals themselves, by community blood banks operated by non-profit agencies other than the Red Cross, and by commercial blood banks. Commercial banks charge from $25 to $60 a pint of blood. The average price is about $35 a pint. These banks collect blood from paid donors. Some are highly ethical establishments. Others do much of their collecting from skid-row bums who are glad to trade a pint of blood for enough money to buy a pint of whisky. The Red Cross never charges a penny for blood. This statement, often made and often challenged, requires some explanation. It costs the Red Cross about $6 a pint to collect and distribute blood, even though the blood itself is given free by volunteer donors. The money goes to pay nurses and doctors who staff the blood centers, for bottles, syringes and other equipment, and for the processing, storage and transportation of the blood. A few cents if it goes for the fruit juice, with which donors are plied before they bare their arms, and for the doughnuts and coffee that await them when they finish. For the past several years, hospitals in many parts of the country have been underwriting part of the collecting costs, usually from $3 to $3.50 a pint. Government hospitals, which also get blood from the Red Cross, contribute $4.50 a pint toward collection costs. The rest is paid by the Red Cross, out of the funds contributed by the American public in its annual appeal. Hardly a day passes, however, without some outraged citizen getting the idea that the Red Cross is running some kind of racket with its blood program. What outrages the citizen is the discovery that a hospital has billed him for a blood transfusion. The explanation, which the Red Cross patiently offers over and over, is that the blood itself is free. But the Red Cross has no control over any charge that a hospital may make for administering.

New Council Meeting Set Early In July

Fleming May Head Police; Mrs. Roeder Water Department

Departmental commitments in the city's newly-elected council apparently are non-existent, with the selection awaiting a meeting with Mayor-elect J. Edwin Keech early in July.

The general theme of the impending meeting seems to be "harmony," with several of the new council members stating that they feel sure the various departments will be allotted with a minimum of bickering.

Some political observers have offered the lineup of John J. Long, the only present member returning to office, as keeping the finance commissioner post; Mrs. Lucile Roeder, commissioner of water and light; Philmore F. Fleming, commissioner of police and firemen; and G. Ray Light, commissioner of streets and public property.

Long, in finance. The lineup was suggested on the basis that Long was re-elected because of support for the policies he has advocated.

That Mrs. Roeder, who had served two terms as street commissioner, at one time had expressed the opinion that the water department should be operated on a budget as the other departments are.

That Fleming, probably wants to be police commissioner in view of paid political advertisements offering him as such a candidate.

That Light would be willing to shoulder the responsibilities of the street department.

However, when contacted this morning none of the electees said they had any particular preference in departments. Mrs. Roeder said she thought the new Council was a "good team" and that any and all problems could be worked out to the satisfaction of all.

Fleming Receptive. Light said his only desire was to work amicably with his fellow members, and expressed the opinion that the selection of departments would be made in the best interests of the city. Fleming said he would be receptive to the position of police commissioner, but that the advertisements should not necessarily tie him to that post. He also said he wanted to work harmoniously with Mayor-elect Keech and the new council and felt sure that some of the problems facing the city could be worked out if the group would work as a team.

Other political sources claim Long may wish to return to the police and fire post he held before the last city election, and that Mrs. Roeder might want back the street department position she held prior to the 1954 balloting.

At any rate, the final selection will have to await the meeting with Mayor-elect Keech when he returns from a vacation sometime early in July—before the new council officially takes office on Monday, July 7.

Jobless Pay Claim Filing Starts Today

Eligibles Should Report To Office Same Day As Before

Today the Maryland Department of Employment Security will start taking applications for temporary unemployment compensation benefits, according to Francis E. Kenney, manager of the local ESB office.

This does not mean that all claims should be filed today, but it does mean that claimants who have exhausted their benefits under the regular program should report to the office the same day of the week assigned them when they were drawing their regular benefits, Kenney pointed out.

Who Is Eligible? You may be eligible for additional temporary benefits if—You are unemployed on or after Thursday (June 19). You exhausted, after June 30, 1957, your benefits under the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law, the Federal Unemployment Compensation Program for Veterans, or the Federal Unemployment Compensation Program for Federal Employees.

You have "exhausted" your benefits if you have received the entire amount of benefits to which you were entitled in your benefit year, or if your benefit year expired before you drew the entire amount and you have been unable to establish a new benefit year.

You do not have unemployment benefit rights available in any other state.

You continue to meet the regular weekly requirements of the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law and are not disqualified.

How Much, How Long? If you remain unemployed and continue to meet all other eligibility requirements, you may get half the total amount of benefits you formerly received. For example, if your former benefit total was $780 ($30 a week for 26 weeks), your temporary benefit will be $390 ($30 a week for 13 weeks).

Unless complications arise, you should receive your first check two weeks after filing your first claim, that is, upon your third visit to an office of the Department of Employment Security.

Benefits are payable for weeks of either total or partial unemployment.

This program is not retroactive, and no benefits will be paid for unemployment prior to June 19, 1958.

This is a temporary program ending next April 1. In other words, no benefits will be paid for weeks of unemployment beginning after March 31, 1959.

Claims for temporary unemployment compensation should be filed at the same office of the Department of Employment Security where you formerly claimed unemployment insurance benefits.

Florida Woman Hospitalized In Four-Car Pileup

Mrs. Jessie Skilling, 66, of Sarasota, Fla., who along with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ethel Robinson, also 66, of Shriver Avenue, was injured when four automobiles were damaged yesterday in a chain-reaction accident on U. S. Route 40 at LaVale, is reported in "good" condition this morning at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Mrs. Skilling was admitted for injuries to her left knee and an arm injury as well as an injury to her nose. X-rays taken were negative. Mrs. Robinson was treated for an injury to the left side of her face.

Trooper Charles Snow gave this account of the accident which occurred about 4:45 p. m. and caused an estimated damage of $2,000 to the four cars involved:

An unidentified motorist traveling east on Route 40 came to a stop near the entrance of the Howard Johnson restaurant and turned left into the parking area after westbound traffic was clear.

A spokesman said the purpose of the new association is to present in Cumberland, a regular series of concerts annually by top ranking solo artists, instrumental and vocal ensembles and dance groups.

Preliminary plans for the campaign include the establishment of an organization of approximately 175 officers and members. An executive meeting will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the city to discuss further possibilities.

Under the current plan, the spokesman said, anyone in the community may become a member of the association and attend all concerts. The fee has been set at $7 for adults and $4 for students.

Actual choice of the concerts to be presented is the responsibility of the directors who will represent the entire locale. However, presentations will be offered under the "majority rules" regulation.

Legislature Begins Study On Auto Rates

Seeks To Determine If Drivers Charged With Excessive Rates

BALTIMORE (AP)—A legislative committee, told of a case in which a motorist pays $1,100 a year for liability insurance, has begun a study of such rates.

The study, launched yesterday, is aimed at determining whether drivers who have lost their licenses are being charged excessive rates for insurance.

Sen. Harry A. Cole (R-Balto 4th) told the Motor Vehicles Committee of the Legislative Council about the motorist paying $1,100 a year. The council screens and investigates legislative proposals between sessions of the general assembly.

Compulsory Insurance

In Maryland, a driver whose license has been revoked must show proof of what lawyers call "financial responsibility" before it can be re-issued. This amounts, in effect, to compulsory insurance.

Cole told the committee the State insurance commissioner has no control over the rates fixed by insurance companies in such cases.

Del. Edgar P. Silver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the committee, recalled that Gov. McKeldin vetoed legislation which would have required such motorists to carry proof of financial responsibility for only five years after reinstatement of their licenses. They now must carry it indefinitely. Silver said he did not believe the governor was aware of the implications of his veto.

High School Training

The Silver Committee also decided at yesterday's meeting, its first since the 1958 Legislature, to reconsider its proposal for driver training in public high schools. The Legislature rejected this last winter.

Another committee plan is a study of the State's current program of re-registering all drivers. Silver noted that some complaints have been lodged against the quality of new licenses being issued under the re-registration program.

One complaint came earlier in the day from another legislator, Del. A. Gordon Boone (D-Balto County). He said the licenses, which are photostated cards with the State seal, are "cheap" and flimsy.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner James B. Monroe replied the cards cost the State 43 cents each and are designed to last 50 years. They are also extremely difficult to forge, he said.

Local Boy Scouts Visit Washington

Members of Boy Scout Troop 4, sponsored by Centre Street Methodist Church, will return this evening from their seventh-annual two-day historical and educational tour of Washington. Sixteen scouts and Nelson Willison, scoutmaster, and J. Paul Fisher, troop chairman, left the city yesterday morning in a chartered bus.

The group first visited Mt. Vernon and then were taken to the Naval Receiving Station where they were assigned bunks and to be bedded for the night.

After being given lunch at the Naval Station, a police escort took the group on a tour of the Capitol building, the Library of Congress and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Washington Monument was opened especially for the local scouts last night.

This morning they were to visit the recently-opened National Historical Wax Museum and this afternoon they were to have a two-hour tour of the Smithsonian Institute. After checking out they were to inspect the Bureau of Engraving on their trip back home.

Expenses for the trip are covered through a fund drive conducted by the scouts and parents.

The equipment is the property of John J. McGraw, for whom Bucy formerly worked. Most of the property has been recovered and an investigation is being made on what is still not located.

Bagworm Out Early Eating Trees In Area

Did you ever see bagworms strip a cedar tree, juniper or arbor vitae overnight?

Homeowners commonly report such tagworms in July but the fact is the insects had been working four or five weeks before they were noticed, according to Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent.

He said the bagworms hatch in early June and that is the time to dose them with an insecticide. He suggests a dose of two-thirds cup of malathion wettable powder, or two-thirds cup of lead arsenate, plus flour as a sticker in three gallons of water. Be sure the spray reaches all part of the bush or tree. Spray by June 14 before bagworms strip your plants.

Baby bagworms hatch from eggs in old bags where they hung all winter. The babies feed on new foliage, making bags of silk and enlarging them as they grow. The larger they grow the faster they feed on the succulent foliage.

The staff at the camp will be supplemented by a number of junior staff members comprised of older youths.

There were 8,131 votes cast in the city election, according to the unofficial tabulation. There are 11,811 registered city voters.

West Virginia State Trooper C. E. Dorsey, who investigated, said Ruckman was a passenger in a car operated by Wayne Eugene Ashenfelter, 18, also of Wiley Ford. Trooper Dorsey said the accident occurred when the car skidded on the wet highway while rounding a curve, ran down an embankment and crashed into a pile of stone.

Board Fixes Assessment On Railroads

Baltimore And Ohio Figure Set; Action On W. M. Awaited

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Board of Public Works has tentatively pared the State Tax Department's recommendations for 1958 property valuations of three major railroads operating in West Virginia.

Although the action was not final on the property valuations used in setting up tax bills for the public utilities, the board yesterday fixed the following tentative figures on Class III and IV properties:

Chesapeake and Ohio, 113½ million dollars, compared to 117½ million recommended by the Tax Department; Norfolk and Western, 80½ million, compared to the tax agency's 82 million; Virginian, 37 million, compared to 39 million recommended.

The Tax Department's recommendation of 80 million dollars for the Baltimore and Ohio was accepted by the board. The figure is a reduction of 2½ million dollars from the assessed valuation for 1957.

The board today was to take action on the protested assessment of the Western Maryland Railway in its final day of meetings designed to complete the tax structure for utilities. All of this week's action, however, is subject to further review and possible change.

Discarded Hat Leads To Robbery

BALTIMORE (AP) — When 29-year-old John E. Perkins was making plans to rob a Baltimore savings and loan firm he figured it would be a good idea to wear two sets of clothing, discarding the outer set after the holdup. But he made one slip-up.

He tossed away his own hat along with the discarded clothing. The hat had a laundry mark, the cops traced it, and they soon had Perkins.

He drew a 10 year federal prison sentence yesterday after pleading guilty to armed robbery.

The February 19 holdup netted him $392.

House Seeks Completion Of Projects Bill

Hyde's Amendment For Potomac River Fund Hike Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assured that President Eisenhower is likely to sign a compromise 1½ billion dollar water projects authorization bill, the House set out today to complete action on legislation providing a billion dollars to build such projects.

The House took up the money bill late yesterday immediately after approving, 374 to 17, a $1,555,746,000 compromise version of the authorization bill.

Action by the House sent the authorizing measure to a Senate-House conference committee to settle comparatively minor differences in the separate versions of the bill. The Senate passed an almost identical bill Tuesday to authorize $1,556,225,600 in projects.

Eisenhower in the past two years has vetoed two similar authorizations.

Rejected were amendments by Rep. Dewitt S. Hyde (R-Md) for a hike in funds for a Potomac River study.

The House measure would authorize a $28,000 beach erosion project on the state of Delaware coast from Kitts-Hummock to Fenwick Island, and a beach erosion survey to be made by Army Engineers at the Indian River Bay via Pepper's Creek to Dagsboro, Del.

Since the bill merely would authorize the projects, no money would be provided. The actual funds would be considered at some future time.

64 Confused On Claim Day

BALTIMORE (AP) — Half of the early claimants who showed up today for extended unemployment benefits were turned away because they reported on the wrong day.

The Department of Employment Security said 64 out of the first 127 to report were in that category.

The Legislature last week enacted a law extending the benefit period from 26 to 39 weeks maximum. This followed congressional action to step up the payment period by 50 per cent and implement the program with federal funds.

Offices here, which handle one-half to two-thirds of the work load in the state, opened at 7:15 a.m. to take care of applicants seeking extended benefits. Seventy new employees have been added to offices throughout the state to process the claims.

Applicants for 13 more weeks of jobless pay are supposed to report on their previous reporting day, before their 26-week benefit period ran out.

Kimble Picks J. N. Phillips New Counsel

Appointee Succeeds J. Robert Brown On Board Of Appeals

BALTIMORE (AP) — Executive Director Robert B. Kimble of the Department of Employment Security has appointed a new general counsel for the department.

Kimble said yesterday James N. Phillips was appointed, succeeding J. Robert Brown. Brown will become general counsel to the department's three-man Board of Appeals, which was created June 1, 1957.

The 36-year-old Phillips has been associated with the department in a legal capacity since 1947. He moves from a $6,638 post as assistant supervisor in the legal department to a new $10,000 position.

His firm of Phillips, Sloan and Kraus set up a waxing firm in 1955 which held a $13,380 annual contract to wax floors for the employment security agency.

This and a series of other reported irregularities led to a special investigation and a finding that the old employment agency had shown questionable integrity in awarding the waxing contract to a firm organized by friends of members of the agency.

A shapenup of the agency resulted and the waxing contract subsequently was dropped.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal was purchased by the government in 1936. Only one part—the Georgetown Division, extending 2.1 miles from Georgetown to Seneca—has been restored and is part of the National Capital Parks.

The C&O Canal and the B&O Railroad, Dale recalled, were started the same day. One thing often overlooked, he said, is that vehicles on both were horse-drawn and it was not until the railroad reached Point of Rocks that steam locomotives appeared.

Once that happened, he said, the canal era was on the wane.

Board Dismisses Teacher For Comment On Negroes

BLADENSBURG, Md. (AP) — who gave Good said the choice of Teacher Alan Good said is out of a job because of comments he made to seventh graders about "we cannot accept that kind of teaching."

Officials of Bladensburg Junior High School said yesterday they asked Good said, 36 for his resignation after an investigation showed he told his students he was "ashamed to live in America."

Good said, a social studies instructor at the school, denied making the remark. What he told the students, he said, was that alleged brutality to Negroes "almost made me ashamed of the human race."

School Supt. William S. Schmidt said Good said made the comments after reading his class a story in the June 8 Washington Post telling of charges by Negroes in Dawson, Ga. of alleged police brutality and voting restrictions.

Asst. Supt. George E. Robinson said Robinson refused to return it.

Our American Heritage: Blueberry Time Means Muffins

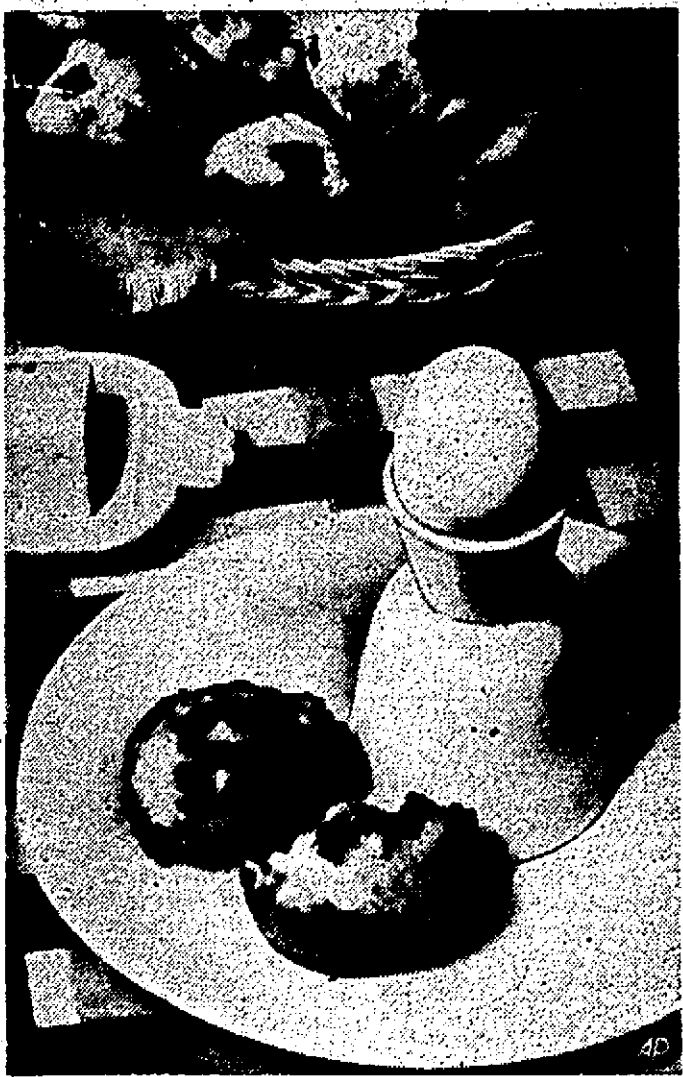

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here comes the blueberry, summer's misty morsel. Hurry to the breakfast table and help yourself to a bowlful. Now dip into the sugar bowl, sifted dark brown sugar if you please. Sprinkle a few spoonfuls over the berries. Throw caution to the winds and pour on the thick cream.

Good? Heavenly! But that's for today. Tomorrow taste another of America's delights. Yes, we mean muffins choiceful of the dark blue berry. To our way of thinking this hot bread is every American's inalienable right.

Blueberries are as American as Plymouth Rock. They were known to the Indians long before the white man staked his claim in the new world. About 50 years ago ingenious Americans began to experiment to streamline the "blues." They cultivated and cross-bred the wild swamp huckleberry. As the berry got civilized it made its way to market. Improvements in cultivation, grading for size and quality, came from decade to decade until now millions of baskets of the berries are sold during warm weather.

We're not deriding the wild huckleberry or the delights of picking them. We've rowed part way across an Adirondack lake to a special small island, friends in low basket in hand. We've clambered over grass and rock and picked the berries to the accompaniment of sun and breeze, merriment and good talk, and gorged ourselves while picking. If you can manage this sort of delight, you're lucky!

But all summer through cultivated blueberries sit in their neat baskets in markets and have wonderful staying power. We've kept them refrigerated, unwashed and covered with transparent plastic wrapping, for as long as 10 days. They're great to use in cobblers and pies, tarts and roly-pols, to say nothing of muffins.

Usually our first blueberries of the season go into a regular muffin batter with maybe a hint of lemon rind, a dusting of sugar and cinnamon over the top. But this year we hark back to America's early days and team the berry with cornmeal to make a sturdy quick bread. Serve these muffins piping hot; if there are any leftover, reheat them. But that's our taste — you may like them cool.

Sturdy Blueberry Muffins.
Ingredients: 1 cup fresh cultivated blueberries, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 cup enriched yellow cornmeal, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 1/2 cups milk.

Method: Wash and drain blueberries thoroughly; sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar. Sift together the flour, cornmeal, baking powder, and salt. Cream butter and 1/4 cup sugar; beat in egg thoroughly. Gently beat in sifted dry ingredients. Add milk; beat vigorously for a few minutes or until smooth. (Mixture will be quite thin at first and gradually thickens somewhat.) Fold in blueberries. Fill buttered muffin pans about three-quarters full; bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Serve hot. If muffin pans whose wells each hold 1/4 cup are used, yield will be 12 to 14 muffins.

Freezer Can Serve As Picnic Storer For Sudden Outings

Keep a picnic in reserve in your freezer. When an opportunity for an outing appears, fill your picnic basket with frozen sandwiches and cupcakes that will be defrosted by lunch time. Here's a filling for 12 hearty buns:

1/2 pound liver sausage
2 cups ground cooked meat
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1/4 cup sliced stuffed olives
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Mix ingredients and spread one-fourth cup of mixture on each bun.

Each sandwich should be wrapped separately in heavy wax paper or foil with the edges of the paper or foil folded tightly to exclude all air. Outer edges should be sealed with tape before freezing.

Meat Prices Irregular In Markets This Week

By The Associated Press

Retail meat prices will follow a crazy quilt course this weekend and shoppers will find a wide range of specials in supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores. Heading the lineup of features will be fowl, fish, beef and veal. Housewives may have to do some hunting for good buys, as prices are irregular.

For example, one leading chain will advertise a sharp reduction in the price of sirloin steak in some Eastern cities, but also will be upping the price of sirloin in other areas.

Fryer prices are being cut in a number of regions while loin veal chops are steady to a little lower. Leg of lamb is still moving upward and changes in pork chops are widely scrambled.

Some stores are raising egg prices by 2 to 6 cents a dozen. Butter is generally unchanged. If housewives find meat prices are hard on the pocketbook, they may turn to the increasing supply of fruits and vegetables.

Produce men report excellent vegetable buys in iceberg, Romaine and Boston lettuce, beets, endive, escarole, radishes, cabbage, spinach, cauliflower and rhubarb.

Among the good buys are snap beans, asparagus, Western carrots, cucumbers, green peppers, California and Florida potatoes, Florida corn and Western lettuce.

Numerous stores will feature newly arrived canteloupe and watermelon.

Best fruit buys, according to produce men, are watermelons, pineapples, bananas and Southern peaches.

Cantaloupes and strawberries are classed as good buys. Southern blueberries and Western cherries are becoming more plentiful, but are a little higher priced.

Box May Replace Potato Bag

It may not be too long now when bags of potatoes will be a rarity and fiberboard boxes will be the usual container.

Tests have shown fiberboard containers reduce bruising and discoloration of potatoes in shipment.

Drawbacks to their acceptance are they're more expensive than bags and labor costs to pack them are higher.

Method: Melt butter in 6 to 8-inch skillet over low heat; add onion strips. Cook until golden colored, stirring often. Meanwhile put beans, boiling water and salt in 1-quart saucepan. Bring rapidly to boil, separating beans if necessary. Cover and boil gently just until tender, about 8 to 12 minutes; do not overcook. Drain beans. Mix with onion; reheat if necessary. Add pepper where the liquid meets the pan to taste. Makes 4 small servings.

Whip Up 'Steak Barbecue' Cooking Salmon, Not Beef

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Try Mrs. Sadamune likes to stick a new type of steak barbecue in this summer with salmon steak. Freshly caught salmon is best, according to the wife of a Northern California commercial fisherman, who marinates and then bastes the fish in herbs, oil and vinegar. Here's the recipe of Mrs. Al Sadamune for barbecued salmon steaks: Draw and scale fish; wipe dry, cut in steak-size pieces and marinate for at least an hour before cooking on barbecue grill. Make the marinade with one part rosemary, one part oregano, one part sage, two parts parsley, two parts sweet basil, garlic to taste, one part Italian olive oil, one part pure red wine vinegar, one part sauterne wine, salt and pepper. Chop rosemary, oregano, sage, parsley, sweet basil and garlic very fine and put into jar. Add oil, vinegar, wine and salt and pepper and mix well. Let stand before using and then mix again. After the salmon steaks are placed on the barbecue grill, they should be basted with the marinade. While the fish is cooking,

Spice Ribs With Hickory Smoke

TO THE TUNE OF A HICKORY STICK—To give new flavor to those barbecued ribs, scatter spiced hickory-flavored smoke sticks over the coals of your barbecue unit half-way through the cooking period.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor No trouble getting the menfolk to make a charcoal fire in the outdoor grill when they know spareribs are being readied for barbecuing. Who doesn't like to pick a rib? But be sure the fire is started about an hour before the cooking so the coals will give a slow steady glow. A roaring fire won't do spareribs a bit of good—tender loving care is what makes them both easy to eat and crisp. We had a lot of fun a few weeks ago trying something new on our own backyard grill. Spiced hickory-flavored smoke sticks, that come in a convenient bag, were scattered over the coals of our open barbecue unit half-way through the cooking period for the ribs. We used the following recipe and all eaters were enthusiastic about the flavor. For the greatest smoking action on an open barbecue unit, dampen the sticks with water before adding them to the coals. Another way to get smoke penetration is to lower the fire box or raise the grill so as to slow the cooking process and lengthen the smoking period. If you have a barbecue unit with a hood or lid that closes to make a smoker, you can confine the smoke and heat so that the ribs will have a more pronounced hickory flavor than is possible to achieve with an open unit. We applied the marinade to the ribs with a light touch so there was plenty left over for dipping when the ribs were served. This dunk went over big. Because the marinade is made with honey, soy sauce and spices, we find rice is a perfect accompaniment to these ribs. Smokehouse Ribs Ingredients: 2 sets (4 to 5 pounds) lean fresh pork spareribs, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1/2 cup soy sauce, 1/2 cup honey, 1 1/2 teaspoons ground ginger, 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, spiced hickory-flavored smoke sticks. Method: Have sets of spareribs whole. Mix pineapple juice, soy sauce, honey, ginger, allspice and mustard. Pour over ribs in shallow container; refrigerate for 2 or 3 hours, turning ribs occasionally. Drain ribs; lace according to style on spit or place on grill; reserve marmalade. Cook according to directions for your barbecue unit. Left-over marinade may be strained, heated and served with cooked ribs as a dip. Smoker barbecue unit—Add smoke sticks to coals and close smoke hood or lid; cook over slow fire for about 2 hours or until tender. Brush with marmalade occasionally during last half hour of cooking. Open barbecue unit—Scatter a handful of smoke sticks on glowing charcoal when meat is about half cooked. Brush with marinade occasionally during last half of 1 to 1 1/2 hour cooking period. If you use a baking pan that is about 11 by 7 inches for Yorkshire pudding, you'll need about 1/4 cup beef drippings for the bottom of the pan before the batter is added.

Prepare Peanut Brittle Bars

Packing a picnic basket? Don't forget the cookies. Here's a recipe for chewy peanut brittle bars: Bottom layer—blend one-fourth cup shortening, one-fourth cup butter or margarine, one-fourth cup beet sugar, one cup sifted all-purpose flour, and one cup (three ounces) finely crushed peanut brittle into a soft dough. Pat evenly into baking pan (eight-by-12-by-2); bake in 350 degree oven 10 minutes. Remove from oven and spread with topping. Topping—sprinkle one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon baking powder over one egg; beat until frothy. Add one cup beet sugar gradually, beating well. Stir in one-half cup sifted all-purpose flour, two tablespoons milk, one teaspoon vanilla extract, and one-half cup shredded coconut. Spread smoothly over partially baked bottom layer. Return to oven and bake 25 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool partially; sprinkle with powdered sugar. Cut into 16 bars. Boat Shaped Bowls Mixing bowls are taking on a new shape. Instead of being round, the latest models in both glass and plastic are boat-shaped with handles that also serve as pouring lips. One firm introduced the new shape last January. Since then other manufacturers adopted it, and exhibited the new style mixing bowls at the American Home Economics Convention in St. Louis.

Club Features Soup On Wheels

A prominent women's club in Connecticut starts off its luncheon meeting with a cart-on-wheels serving the first course—Soup! An old-fashioned chocolate service becomes the soup-ware. Canned condensed cream of chicken combined with tomato soup is served bisque style, topped with curried and salted whipped cream. New Vegetable Combination Toss heated canned green beans with a few drops of garlic, flavored oil and crisp croutons for a new taste in vegetable. Look for the variety of canned green beans that guarantees top flavor, color and tenderness.

Prove Your Independence: Even Cooks Can Be Free on July 4th

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE—The cook can have a glorious and relaxing 4th of July by serving an easy summer buffet. The canned ham and other items are prepared well ahead of time and served on plastic coated paper plates.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

No reason why the cook, along with everyone else in the family, shouldn't have a grand and glorious 4th of July.

This is not the day to enjoy martyrdom. Strike out for independence and if you must feel "put upon," stand over the hot stove some other day!

Guests coming? Serve an easy summer buffet. Let a canned ham, tricked out in a quick glaze, be the piece de resistance. With it have potato salad (made ahead), garnished with pretty crisp slices, or radish for texture contrast.

Cole slaw, too, can have a stay in the refrigerator while flavors blend, and then just before serving be topped with sliced scallions to please the menfolk. Or if you like macaroni salad, you may prepare it in advance; usually cooked chilled elbow macaroni is used and mixed with crisp raw vegetables and mayonnaise.

Open some cans of those luxurious boneless and skinless sardines and accompany them with lemon wedges or ready-prepared tartar sauce. Or, if you prefer, serve herring tidbits that come in a spicy marinade.

Add sliced cucumbers or tomatoes (or both) doused with an old-fashioned mixture of herb vinegar and a little sugar. Olives and gherkins, really fine cheese and good rolls or dark bread will be welcome. Take life easy at dessert time and serve chilled melon.

You needn't get out your best china platters and plates for this buffet. We've tried some of the new plastic-coated paper plates

(for serving and eating and find them both attractive and functional—and they can be thrown away! The silver-finish rectangular paper "trays" are particularly appropriate for some of the offerings on our menu and you can pick and choose among designs and colors to suit your own scheme of things. One mosaic pattern comes in sky blue and olive green—the season's chic combination.

GLAZED CANNED HAM

Ingredients: One 6-pound canned ham, whole cloves, 1/4 cup old-fashioned molasses, 1/4 cup prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce.

Method: To slice ham before heating, cut 1/4-inch thick slice; insert cloves along top edge of ham; make second slice; leave next slice plain. Finish cutting ham, alternating plain and clove-studded slices. Tie sliced ham with string in original shape; place in shallow baking pan. Mix together molasses and mus-

Shop Carefully

Careful selection of fruits and vegetables can stretch food dollars.

Catherine Love, consumer education specialist at Pennsylvania State University, says shoppers should compare fresh, frozen, canned or dried produce and then consider the amount of waste, number of servings, and time needed for preparation.

Keeping informed on what are good buys at local markets will aid in making decisions.

Lemon Fluff
Ingredients: 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 3/4 cups boiling water, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 2 large egg whites.

Method: Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in a mixing bowl. Add boiling water, sugar, salt; stir until sugar dissolves. Stir in lemon rind and juice. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than consistency of unbeaten egg whites.

Whip until foamy (throughout with rotary (hand or electric) beater. With clean beater, beat egg whites until they stand up in a straight peak when beater is slowly withdrawn; add gelatin mixture. Place bowl in ice water; continue to beat until mixture begins to hold its shape and doubles its volume—10 to 20 minutes. Turn into a 5-cup mold and chill until firm. Unmold by running knife around edge and dipping mold bottoms in hot water. Makes 8 servings.

GARLITZ BROS.

CORNER 1st AND SOUTH CUMBERLAND GRAND AVE.

If there ever was a man who enjoyed sports, it was Ralph E. Diebold, the genial 360-pound giant who died early Tuesday in Sacred Heart Hospital.

A former local football player, Ralph was interested in just about any kind of athletic entertainment. His face was a familiar sight in the bleachers at local softball games with the Fraternal Order of Eagles team being his favorite. He also made frequent trips to see major league contests.

Few fans ever got to a game before he did. He liked to watch batting practice and hurl good-natured barbs at the players. They, in turn, injected long-range needles for his benefit.

"Rolling Ralph" had a tremendous appetite, as would anyone his size. His friends—and there were many—kidded him about the two man-sized dinners he would eat regularly at one sitting, but he laughed it off. "Keep talking," he would say, "and I'll keep eating."

Back in the days before the mechanical refrigerator, Ralph made his living as an ice salesman for the Cumberland Brewing Company. He would pull those huge cakes of ice from his horse-drawn wagon as if they were mere plastic shells. With the repeal of prohibition and the end of the "ice age," he became a bartender.

But with all his tremendous strength, Ralph Diebold was mild-mannered, kind and considerate. At 71 he was full of more fun than many men half his age.

Speaking Of Betting

Big daily double prices have marked the early days of the current race meeting at West Virginia's Waterford Park. The payoffs have been well above the ordinary with such prices as $327.40 and $551.00, but these are not close to the track's record.

Back on October 13, 1952 the combination of 11 Girl and Infrequency galloped home for $3,939.40, which is substantially lower than the world record—$12,724. That mark was set at Agua Caliente, Mexico when the entire double pool was swept by a lone bettor—a woman.

Jay E. Mathews, Waterford mutuels manager, has some interesting tales to tell about betting on horse races.

The strangest of these concerns the freak mutuels posted at Agua Caliente January 21, 1928. An extreme longshot, Bay Lad, won the race to pay $156.00 for each two bucks, yet paid only $2.60 to place and $2.20 to show. At the same track Old Kickapoo won without anyone betting a dollar on his chances. The entire straight pool was combined with the place pool and paid to holders of place tickets on the first two horses.

Even daily double pools were different in those old days. At the Riverside Park track, near Kansas City, no tickets were sold on the first four horses of the double, and the payoff was made on the horse which finished fifth. No wonder racing fans are warned to "hold your tickets until the race has been declared official."

Mutuel prices at Waterford Park, or any track, are based not upon how much money is wagered on a certain horse, as on the amount bet on other horses in the same race. The money bet on the winner is divided back into the losing pool to determine the final mutuels payoff. That accounted for a strange price at Saratoga on August 8, 1947 when Miss Disco won the sixth race and paid $52.50, $95.10 and $34.70 across the board.

All weird payoffs are not restricted to this continent, according to Mathews. In Australia there is no law limiting the minimum return that mutuels must pay. As a result, Aussie horse players who bet on a red-hot favorite to place or show sometimes find they have lost money, even though backing a winner.

At minor rural tracks it is quite common to find the favorite paying 40 cents to show for each 10-cent ticket. At Deauville, France Arabar won the Prix de Viot as such a short priced choice that there wasn't enough money in the totalisator to declare a dividend, so the track refunded all wagers.

Patty Berg Shooting For Seventh Western

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Patty Berg goes after her seventh Western Open invitation golf tournament championship today at the 6,370-yard Kahkwa Club course.

The course, with a woman's part of 37-36-73, is considered a fair but tough test. It has small greens and narrow fairways.

Miss Berg, who captured the title last year at Montgomery, Ala., heads a field of women professionals who will be competing for $5,000 in prizes in the 29th in 33 consecutive innings. He

Newcombe Credits Tebbetts For 'New Look'

Says Birdie Trip To Hill Helped Give Confidence

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

A beaming "new" Don Newcombe today credited it all to that "old" psychologist—Birdie Tebbetts.

Newcombe had that new look in a lot of respects last night. He was pitching in a Cincinnati uniform for the first time, he was working under Tebbetts for the first time and when it was all over, he was a winner for the first time this season following six straight losses with the Dodgers.

Big Newk, traded by the Dodgers last Sunday, did it with a six-hit 6-1 victory over St. Louis but he insisted that Tebbetts share his hour of triumph.

The canny Redleg manager made a special trip to the mound after the Cardinals loaded the bases on three successive singles with one out in the ninth.

Reassured By Tebbetts
"I know you... you are going to finish this," Tebbetts said. "Take your time... get in an argument if you want to slow down."

Newcombe promptly retired pinch hitters Irv Noren and Hobie Landrith to end the game.

"Walt Alston would have had me out of there," said the huge right-hander, who gave up the Cards' only run when Stan Musial tagged him for his 12th homer in the first inning.

Gus Bell tied it with a homer in the bottom of the first and Cincinnati got all the runs Newk needed with another pair in the third off Joser, Larry Jackson. Newcombe drove in the final run in the seventh.

Good as Newcombe was for the Redlegs, the Dodgers did some rejoicing of their own over the showing of rookie Stan Williams, who shut out the Phillies, 3-0, on four hits.

Williams out-duelled Robin Roberts for his second victory since being recalled from St. Paul. His first triumph also was a shutout.

Fans Hurl Beer Cans
The game was marked by a fifth-inning shower of beer cans from Philadelphia fans, who didn't let up until Frank Dascoli threatened to forfeit the game to Los Angeles. The uproar all came about following Joe Pignatano's two-run homer, which some of the fans felt had curved foul.

Carl Furillo made the rumpus a purely academic one when he singled home another run in the sixth.

Whitey Lockman, given a chance to start when Willie Mays was benched for the first time this season, rapped out a tenth-inning single to give the Giants a 2-1 win over the Pirates.

Lockman's single sent Bob Friend down to his sixth setback after he had yielded a single in the tenth to Bob Schmidt and a walk to Paul Giel. The winner was Giel, who gave up only four hits and retired 15 straight batters before retiring in favor of Marv Grissom in the bottom of the tenth. Grissom set down the last three batters in order to preserve Giel's first victory.

Eddie Mathews' 14th home run was wiped out when rain caused postponement of the Milwaukee-Chicago game with the Braves ahead, 1-0, in the second inning. The Braves still lead the National League by two games.

Homers Win For Yanks
Casey Stengel's parting message before leaving New York was "watch our smoke on the road," and the Yankees made him look good by taking their second straight from the Cleveland Indians, 3-2.

Art Ditmar got his first starting assignment of the season and turned it into his first victory. He didn't allow a hit until the sixth when the Indians scored both their runs but Ryne Duren took over in the seventh, retired the last seven men in a row and wrapped it up.

The Yanks scored all their runs in the first inning off Jim (Mudcat) Grant. Hank Bauer opened the game with his sixth homer. Moose Skowron singled and Elston Howard slammed his fifth home run. Grant allowed only three more hits after that but the damage was done.

Mt Pappas, a 19-year-old fastballer, out-pitched 41-year-old Murry Dickson in Baltimore's 5-3 triumph over Kansas City.

Triandos Hits 14th
The A's went ahead with two runs in the first inning—all they ever got off Pappas—but Gus Triandos' 14th homer with one on tied the score in the sixth and Pappas belted a double that produced the tie-breaker in the same frame. He was credited with his fourth victory although relieved in the eighth by Arnie Portocarrero, who gave up KC's final run.

Baltimore scored its final two runs off relievers Jack Urban and Bob Grim.

Boston snapped Chicago's four-game winning streak, 13-9, with a 13-hit attack that included homers by Marty Keough, Don Buddin, Jackie Jensen, Frank Malzone, and Ted Williams. Keough's homer in the first inning was the first run off White Sox pitching in 33 consecutive innings. He

ALCO COACH AND FAMILY — Ed Schwarz, named last week as Allegany High's new football coach, points out on a map to his family in Dover, Del. the location of Cumberland. His wife is the former Miss Jeanne Schaffer, a graduate of Terra Alta (W. Va.) High School. The Schwarz's daughters are six-year-old Linda, 6 (sitting next to her father) and Alice who will be 2 in July. Schwarz will report here in August.

Ed Schwarz Says He Can't Wait To Get Started Here

The following story was written especially for The Evening Times by the Delaware State News of Dover, Del.

DOVER, Del.—Ed Schwarz, new head football and track coach at Allegany High School in Cumberland, Md., plays to win.

"I just don't believe you are teaching anything when you constantly lose," says Schwarz, who resigned as athletic director and head football coach at Dover to accept the Cumberland post.

While his 16-16 won-lost record at Dover might at first glance tend to refute his philosophy, the figures don't tell the complete story.

His predecessor at Dover had guided the Senators to only three victories in as many years while suffering 24 defeats.

Star At Erie
Thus, the Schwarz 500 percent age represents quite an improvement. At Kingsport, Tenn., where he was assistant coach two years and head mentor three years, the school had a 41-11 mark.

The Dover track team, of which Schwarz was an assistant coach, lost only one dual meet in the past two campaigns. Schwarz, best known in college as a football player, was a hurdler and weight man at Strong Vincent High School, Erie, Pa.

Schwarz came to Dover under specific assignment to revitalize an athletic program that had fallen into losing habits. He accomplished his task.

Sparked Student Interest
Last year, every Senator athletic team ended up with a record of more victories than losses. Included was the wrestling team, a sport which Schwarz added only last season to the varsity program.

Schwarz helped spark student interest in football soon after he came to Dover when he initiated a football camp, with the varsity squad spending a week at Downingtown, Pa.

The players helped pay the cost of the camp by peddling season tickets, also a departure for Dover. A slight deficit was made up by the school board.

Somewhat of a stickler for conditioning, Schwarz had remarkably few game injuries during his four seasons here.

Rigid training at the football camp, he says, had something to do with that.

Four Twilight Games Billed; Protest Fails

Team standings in the Twilight Baseball League could take a shuffle after this evening's action as front-running Barton, with a 9-1 record, and runnerup Midland (8-1) are both billed for contests with first division clubs.

Barton, in first place by one-half game, will defend its position against third-place Westernport (6-3) on the latter's diamond. Midland, presently resting in second with an 8-1 mark, will meet Zihlman, which is currently knotted with Cumberland for fourth with a 5-5 showing in a contest at Midland.

Lonaconing (3-6) will host Cumberland and Finzel, in the league basement with a winless 0-10 log, will entertain seventh-place Wright's Crossing (2-7) on the former's field.

All games will start at 5:30 p. m. with the exception of the one at Finzel which will start a half-hour later.

Midland's protest that Cumberland used ineligible players in a 17-4 victory over the formerly unbeaten Midland nine was disallowed last night at a league meeting, according to William "Scotty" Orr, president.

Orr stated that Midland had insufficient information to uphold its claim that Cumberland's Graylows used players released from other clubs for less than 48 hours, and had more than the legal limit of three Pen-Mar League players on its squad. He also stated that the Cumberland victory will stand.

In an exhibition game, Zihlman was the victor over Mt. Savage's Old Germans of the Pen-Mar League at Mt. Savage by the score of 3-2.

Jack Anderson received the nod over Bob Blank as Jack Robeson collected two hits and Dick Robeson whacked a triple for Zihlman. Archie Lennox smacked a two-bagger for the Old Gees.

In a game set for tomorrow at 5:30 p. m., Midland and Lonaconing will go at it in a league clash at Barton.

Bahama Sparkles In Win Over 'Kid'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Young Yama Bahama considered a campaign in the welterweight boxing ranks today after belting out a solid victory over former welter king Kid Gavilan.

Bahama, 25, a former fishing guide from Bimini, took a quick early lead over Gavilan in their televised fight Wednesday night in the Miami Beach Auditorium and the Cuban Hawk, a slowed-down batter at 32, had nothing with which to rally.

Judge Eddie Thal gave Bahama the most one-sided score, 100-92. Referee Jimmy Pearce scored it 98-94 and Judge Stu Winston 99-93. Bahama was a 98-93 winner on The Associated Press card.

Bahama, who has campaigned fairly successfully as a middleweight since after the fight he might have a go at the welters, in view of his easy night against Gavilan. It'll be no trouble to make the weight, he added.

The win over Gavilan was the 49th for Bahama against eight losses and one draw. At 151½ pounds, he was a half-pound heavier than the Cuban Kid. Gavilan's career record now is 106-30-6.

WM Railway, Local 26 Clash In Rec Feature

Western Maryland, after losing its first game of the season, to Ridgeley Legion and then coming on to win four straight, will be battling for an advance toward first place in the Rec Softball League this evening when tangling with front-running Local 26 at Naval Reserve Field.

Local 26 is undefeated in six outings and occupies the league's pilot seat while the Railwaymen, playing one game less, display a 4-1 record.

Another circuit tilt finds Don McIntyre's seeking its second straight win while clashing with National Guard at Rolling Mill Field. McIntyre's is in fourth place with a 3-2 mark and the Guardsmen are lodged in the league basement with a 1-4 record. Both games will get underway at 6:15 p. m.

Ellsworth Lambert belted his fourth home run of the season as Western Maryland easily won their fourth straight last night, 16-4, over Salvation Army on the Naval Reserve Field.

Lambert also came through with a pair of singles in the 14th attack by the Railroaders. Bill Briner collected a two-bagger and single as Western Maryland came up with two six-run innings.

"Turtle" Slonaker chalked up the victory, although relieved by Denny Knippenberg in the fifth. Hughes was the loser. O'Neal obtained two of Salvation Army's four hits.

Three Repeaters In Women's Semis

AMES, Iowa. (AP) — Three repeaters from 1957 and a pretty 18-year-old newcomer from Minnesota were involved today in the semifinals of the Women's National Collegiate Golf Tournament.

The newcomer was Carole Pugh, a Carleton College freshman who surprised with a 1 up victory over National Amateur champion Joanne Gunderson in the quarterfinals.

Carole had another big task today. She was matched against defending champion Meriam Bailey of Northwestern University who won the last four holes for a 1 up decision over Laurayne Conley of Northern Illinois.

Judy Bell of Wichita University, who lost 1 down in the 1957 final, was paired today with Ann Rutherford of Penn State, a semifinal loser to Miss Bailey last year. Miss Bell eliminated Judy Kimball of Sioux City, a Kansas U. player, 4 and 3, and Ann swept through medalist Clifford Ann Creed of Lamar Tech, 6 and 5, Wednesday.

Rigney Happy About Giel's Thrilling Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Paul Giel is the pitcher who can make the San Francisco Giants a real pennant contender."

That's what Giant manager Bill Rigney said Wednesday night after his club nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in 10 innings.

The victory left the Giants two games back of the league-leading Milwaukee Braves.

Rigney, who had benched Willie Mays and drastically shaken up his lineup, held court in the dressing room while Giel accepted congratulations for his four-hit victory.

Giel now has a 1-1 record since his recent recall from Phoenix. The victory was his first in the majors since a two-year tour of Army duty. A former All-America football player at Minnesota, he passed up a pro football career to go with the Giants for a sizable bonus.

At one stretch Giel retired 16 Pirates in order. He was not around at the finish, however, and he was a little disappointed. Rigney called upon veteran right-hander Marv Grissom after Giel had given a leadoff single to Bill Mazeroski in the 10th and had a two-ball and no-strike count on pinchhitter Dick Schofield. Grissom got Schofield on a foul, struck out pinchhitter Johnny Powers and forced Bill Virton to ground out.

"Naturally, I wanted to finish the game but Rigney is running the ball club and he knows more about baseball than I do," Giel declared. "Grissom is a great pitcher."

Lions After 'Stove Lead In Tilt Today

The Lions Club, tied with four other clubs for the Hot Stove League lead with a 2-1 record, will be attempting to take over the pacer's position when meeting the Kiwanis Club (1-1) this evening in a game under the lights at Penn Avenue Field.

The game will get underway at 8 p. m. and is the circuit's only scheduled game for today.

Jimmy Seeders allowed just two hits, both of which came after the fifth inning, as Bedford Road Optimists blanked Cumberland's Optimists, 2-0, last night at Penn Avenue.

Bill Sheetz singled in the sixth inning to snub Seeders' bid for the loop's second no-hit game of the season. Ronnie Evans, Lions' hurler, is credited with a no-hit game in turning back Rotary, 9-1. Seeders struck out 10 and walked seven yesterday, while his opposing pitcher, Jack Hutcheson, fanned 13 Bedford Road batsmen.

Hutcheson threw wild pitch first base in the second inning to allow the first Bedford Road tally. The winners added another in the fifth when Harold Hardinger singled home the insurance tally.

Hardinger, Albert Murray, Ed Litten and John Adams shared Bedford Road's four bingles. Hardinger also starred afield for the winners.

Jaycees scored three runs in each the first and fifth innings in an afternoon game on the same diamond to turn back B'nai B'rith, 6-1.

Phil Barbe went the distance for Jaycees, giving up two hits and whiffing 11. Hopwood and Peters had the loser's hits.

Jim Garlitz and Gary Morgan garnered two hits each for the winners. One of Morgan's raps was a double.

Results of the two games brought about a tie for the league lead as Cumberland Optimists, Bedford Road Optimists, Elks, Lions and Jaycees all sport 2-1 records.

Cornet Set Down For Five Weeks

Fred Cornet of the Ritter A. C. has been suspended for five weeks in the Rocking Chair Softball League as a result of his run-in Tuesday with umpire Vic Reynolds, president Bill Keegan announced today.

Cornet disputed a decision of Reynolds in the game against Knights of Columbus at Post Field and later assaulted him. Keegan referred to Rule 35 of the constitution and by-laws of the league which states: "Striking or threatening to strike an umpire will not be tolerated at any time."

The penalty for the first offense is five weeks.

19-Year-Old Pappas Beats Dickson, 42

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It took a youngster to tame 42-year-old Murry Dickson of the Kansas City Athletics.

The veteran Dickson had thrashed the Baltimore Orioles two times this season, but last night Baltimore got to him and 19-year-old Milt Pappas won his fourth game of the year 5-3. He has lost one.

The magic Dickson had wielded over Baltimore batters earlier this season faded away last night. He gave up nine hits and three runs before he was relieved by Jack Urban in the sixth. Dickson's record is now 4-3 for the year.

Pappas gave up only five hits and two runs in seven innings, before giving way to reliever Arnold Portocarrero.

The Orioles will start Skinny Brown (1-0) on the mound tonight in an effort to make a clean sweep of the three-game series. Ned Garver (7-3) will start for the A's.

Baltimore spotted Kansas City two runs right at the outset of last night's encounter, but a two-run homer by Gus Triandos and six doubles, two of them by Brooks Robinson, were enough to win. It was Triandos' 14th four-bagger of the season.

Pappas put the Orioles ahead in the sixth frame with a run-scoring double. After that, Baltimore was never headed although Kansas City eked out another run in the ninth.

Robinson and Gene Woodling, with three hits apiece, paced the Orioles' attack. Woodling also contributed a fielding gem in the eighth with his diving catch of Roger Maris' hard hit drive.

Top Field Seen Tomorrow For Speedway Tests

Because of last week's postponed races at the Potomac Valley Speedway, the largest field of the season is expected to compete tomorrow night on the one-third mile dirt track.

Last week's program was postponed at the end of the first race due to the hazardous condition of the track, resulting from the steady downpour of rain. The twenty drivers who were scheduled to compete last week signed before leaving the course that they would return for tomorrow's events.

Plenty of action will be provided when Lou Leatherman, Ollie Beckman, Glenn Hill, "Red" Frederick, Les Garlick, and Park Tressler, who are the leading drivers, navigate their Mercurs, Fords, GMC's, and Chryslers around the course in competition with about a dozen other drivers.

Leatherman is the present leading driver, followed by Beckman, Hill and Garlick. Leatherman has piloted his racer to two successive feature wins, including the 30-lap Memorial Day race. Beckman and Hill have won one each.

New drivers and cars have been making their debuts each week at the West Virginia speedway.

All rainchecks from last Friday's races will be honored to tomorrow evening.

Cresaptown Seeks First Place Pen-Mar Berth

The feature of Pen-Mar Little League action this evening will be at Cresaptown where league-leading Barrelville will jeopardize their top-spot standing in a clash with co-runner Eagles.

Barrelville, with an 8-3 record, had its eight-game win skein snapped its last time out by Ellerslie, 1-0. Cresaptown is tied with Tri-State Memorial for second place with a 7-4 record, one game behind the pacesetters.

LaVale's Orioles (6-11) and Ellerslie (5-5) will battle it out in the second of tonight's three league games at Ellerslie and Tri-State Memorial (7-4) will round out the evening's action with a contest against LaVale's Maroons (5-5) on the Parkside diamond, LaVale.

All three games will get underway at 6 p. m.

Yankees, Braves Meet In Mt. Savage League

Yankees and Braves will square off against each other this evening in the second day of action for the Mt. Savage Little League.

The Orioles, after a period of league inactivation, reopened the "Savage League" with a 14-5 trimming of the Pirates Tuesday.

This evening's contest will get underway at 6 p. m. on Mt. Savage High School diamond.

Petrus and LaNeve To Meet For Title

It will be George Petrus and Benny LaNeve in the finals of the men's spring handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Petrus yesterday advanced to the finals by defeating Orville Jackson, 2 and 1. No date has been set for the championship match.

Glassmen Play Caseys Today

Pittsburgh Plate Glass moved into a third-place Rocking Chair Softball League tie with 'Loyal Order of Moose yesterday by taking an 11-6 decision from Celanese on the loser's diamond.

The Glassmen, who had a four-game winning streak snapped Tuesday by the Elks, tangled with Knights of Columbus this evening at Fort Hill. The Caseys have won their last two starts, both by Allan Sheetz shutouts, and need a win to put them in the .500 class.

In other games this evening, the second-place Elks (8-3) meet Moose (5-4) at Post Field and Celanese A. C. (0-8) plays host to the Ritter AC (3-6). Front-running Veterans of Foreign Wars (8-1) is idle. All three contests will start at 6 o'clock.

Pittsburgh Plate hammered the offerings of Bill Shuck for a dozen hits yesterday, including two each by Bill Thompson and George Stevenson. Mickey Cunningham led the losers' attack with a double and two singles. Blackie Blacka homered for Celanese.

Bud Law went the route for Pittsburgh Plate to get his second victory.

Wild Shooting For Third Title

BALTIMORE (AP)—Claude Wild of Burning Tree was gunning for his third straight title in the Maryland State Golf Assn. Amateur Championships as he and 101 challengers teed off today at the Country Club of Maryland.

Today's round over the 6,335-yard, par 70 course will determine the 31 qualifiers who will battle it out in two rounds of match play tomorrow and Saturday and the 36-hole finals on Sunday.

The field also included six-time winner Ralph Bogart of Chevy Chase and young Hank Majeski, of Baltimore, who won the Middle Atlantic qualifying medal last week in his first tournament start outside of junior competition.

Mantle's Ailing Shoulder Treated

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mickey Mantle, New York Yankee center fielder, received X-ray treatment for his injured right shoulder at Evangelical Deaconess Hospital Wednesday.

It was learned this was the second in a series of three treatments for the Yankee slugger, who has been ailing since spring training. He will receive further treatment in Detroit Friday.

Mantle's shoulder injury has greatly impaired his effectiveness as a left-handed batter. He is hitting only .226 from that side of the plate. The switch-hitter has been whacking away at a 476 club while batting as a righty.

DD Little League Lists Trio Games

Three games are scheduled to day in the Dapper Dan Little League, marking the second games played this season by six of the teams in the 12-club circuit.

Today's matches have Athletics (0-1) going after their first win with a game against Indians, also winless in one start, at East Side Field at 6 p. m.

In a game scheduled for Penn Avenue Field at 6 p. m., once-victorious Braves will tangle with the Senators (0-1). And in a 3:30 p. m. contest this afternoon at Post Field, Giants, defeated in their initial start, will face Yankees (1-0).

The Pirates scored in every inning yesterday against Cardinals to win their second game of the young campaign, 12-4, at Penn Avenue in a Dapper Division match.

Mike Adams allowed just three hits and struck out six while his mates splurged for two four-run innings to ice the victory. Adams was in trouble only once.

Gary Siebert had two singles and a homer; Jim Shelley, a home run and single, and Johnny Lewis, a round-tripper in the winner's 14th-inning. Harper's four-bagger was the only damaging smash off Adams.

Annapolis Yacht Wins Race To Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—In a finish as dramatic as 1956, the last time the race was held, Carleton Mitchell's Finisterre won the 650-mile Newport, R. I. to Bermuda ocean yacht race today for the second straight time, a modern record.

The silver-gray hull 38½-foot yawl out of Annapolis, Md. thus snatched the Bermuda Trophy away from Jack Hedden's California-owned Good News, the first craft to finish, in much the same manner they swept away the trophy from Figaro in the 1936 race.

City League Lead Knotted

Three teams are tied for the City Softball League as a result of Sports Shoppe's 3-0 win over Hermans at Post Field, and a 4-0 shutout by Old Exports over Knights of Columbus at East Side Field in league games yesterday.

The wins enabled the Sports Shoppe and the Old Exports to knot Chaney's Transportation for the top spot as all three clubs are in with 2-1 records.

Bobby Christ, Jerry Farrell and Donnie Farrell obtained the only singles given up by Junior Brelsford as the fastballing righthander blanked the Knights. George McGregor doubled home a pair of runs in the fifth inning for the winning Exports.

K of C leftfielder Denny Martin turned in the fielding highlight of the game when he threw out an Old Export runner at home plate to halt a three-run outburst in the fifth inning.

Rich Smith huffed Sports Shoppe to its victory over defending champion Hermans. The Shoppers capped the game in the first inning on singles by Bob Mundeno and Wayne Holly and a two-bagger by shortstop John Teter.

Teter also starred afield for the winners. Mundeno had two hits for the Sports Shoppe. Gene Babilio smacked out a pair for the Exports.

Top-Seeded Tulane Tennis Ace Gets First Test Today

ANNAPOLIS—(AP)—Tulane's Ron Holmberg got a chance today to live up to his pre-tournament ranking of No. 1 in the National Collegiate Tennis Championships at the Naval Academy.

The Tulane ace drew seventh-seeded Jack Douglas of Stanford for a quarter-finals opponent—the first ranking player he has met in the tournament which started Monday.

Douglas, Stanford's football quarterback and one of the top college tennis players in the country, reached the quarter-finals with a 6-2, 6-1 victory yesterday over Jon Erickson of Michigan.

Erickson was rated among the first 16 players in the meet.

Holmberg whipped John Cook of Western Michigan, 6-0, 6-2, for his fourth straight victory.

Second-seeded Alex Olmedo of Southern California, the unofficial tournament favorite to repeat the championship he won as a sophomore in 1956, also moved into tougher competition after winning three matches in straight sets and yielding only two games in the process.

He met Miami's sixth-ranked Jerry Moss in the No. 2 quarter-finals match after turning back Lester Sack of Tulane 6-0, 6-0 yesterday. Moss advanced with a 6-4, 6-3 victory over Stanford's David Nelson.

Other quarter-final singles matches pitted third-ranked Don-

Korea Official Speaks Here

Democracy in Korea, after 10 years of practice in a system similar to the United States with the balance of power among the three branches of government, has succeeded in developing into a sound and stable political unit, Suk Heun Yun, first secretary of the Korean Embassy in Washington, told the Cumberland Lions Club yesterday.

Speaking at the weekly luncheon at the Central YMCA, Yun gave a review of democracy in Korea, past and present, and expressed confidence that his nation will succeed in building a prosperous and democratic country.

In the first election in South Korea, held in 1948 under United Nations observation, 95.2 per cent of registered voters cast ballots as over 800 candidates competed for 210 seats on the Korean National Assembly.

Succeeding elections have seen the continued decrease in the number of candidates and the gradual consolidation of some 70 political groups into a two-party system.

The growing maturity of the electorate and stability of the political system, he said, has been further strengthened by the adoption of the presidential system in a constitution which provides for the popular election of the president.
